WILDNESS STRIKES CHS

Students cut loose

Welcome to the 1988 Cavalier, Born to be Wild. Throughout the year, each and everyone of us shared and will always cherish the uncivilized, foolish and reckless memories that took place at CHS. If you were to leaf through this past year like a book, it would bring back all those wacky and wild memories.

As separate classes, everyone had different things to look back on that will always be remembered. The freshmen — their first day of high school. The sophomores — their class ring and license. The juniors — decorating for the prom. Finally the seniors — their marriage projects and graduation.

Can you remember when "The Edge", played one morning and woke everyone up? How about when some members of the CHS staff went up in the hot air balloon? Now you surely won't forget that the 1987 football team shared the MAC along with the Minster Wildcats.

It just seems like yesterday that "Kiss" was walking down the CHS halls. Remember the big birthday bash the whole school participated in, the 200th birthday of the Constitution. There's no way anyone can forget the Monday morning blues or the "word of the day." The first snowfall was memorable also. Everyone ran outside to get into a snowball fight, even though there was not enough snow to make a snowball.

Thanks to the passing of the levy, more classrooms and a bigger gym will be added to CHS. And every leap year the Olympic games take place. How can anyone overlook all the injuries that were sustained during the competitions. On the subject of injuries, remember all the students that were walking around on crutches. Who would ever think a day would go by without someone using crutches.

Talking about things that were considered to be the "in" thing, let's take a look at some others found in the CHS halls.

Some of those were all the different hairstyles. They ranged from straight to curly, bobbed to catscratches and from spiked to long. Stone-washed jeans, a sweatshirt and a pair of Nikes (laces not tied) seemed to be the dress code for this year. Sayings that were heard quite often in the halls were "Yippy-Skippy", "Oh yea" and "Sorry about your luck."

As the year came to its end, so did the prom, the studying (more like cramming) for the dreadful exams and the planning and taking of the senior trips.

These were a few of the memorable events that took place in this one year, and the rest of the yearbook captures many more. With all the extra time the yearbook staff put into this year's book, we hope you will be able to look back on this year and remember all the wacky and wild times.

The '87 Queen Is . . .

... As weeks of waiting passed by, October 16 was here and the 1987 Homecoming Queen was to be announced. As the crowds loud roars hushed down to a quiet whisper, their attention was drawn to the 50-yard-line. There the court — Alicia Bruns, Julie Miller, Sheri Rentz, Shelly Post and Jan Sudhoff — along with their escorts, nervously awaited the announcing and the crowning of the queen.

Amid the screams of the crowds favorite candidates, Julie Miller was announced as the first runner-up. Seconds later, the new homecoming queen was announced — Jan Sudhoff. As last year's queen, Jodi Froning, placed the crown on Jan's head, cheers of acceptance were made by the crowd.

The court and the crowd watched the Cavs roll on to another victory over the Parkway Panthers winning 20-0.

HOMECOMING "'87"

October 17th was a very special day. It was not only Sweetest Day but also the 1987 Girls' Homecoming Dance.

Many of the students felt excitement as they started out early for their dates. Some of the Juniors endured strong hardships as they struggled through the morning taking a PSAT test. The time quickly passed as they prepared themselves for the dance and soon they were on their way.

When the clock struck 9:00 a few straggling students scrambled in to beat the closing of the doors. Music of Z-Man Sound System was heard and leis were distributed to carry out the Hawaiian theme. As the night wore on Queen Jan Sudhoff and her court still had energy to boogie the night away. As the students were leaving they heard the last two or three clicks of cameras as seniors tried to capture the end of their last dance.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND

Votes were counted and the 1988 homecoming king candidates were announced — Jack Knapke, Cory McKibben, Brad Muhlenkamp, Fred Sowar and Glen Steinbrunner. As the week came to its end, so did the crowning of the 1988 Homecoming King. February 18 marked the big night, the king was to be crowned.

The JV girls basketball game was over and the candidates along with their escorts were called to the center of the court. As senior basketball players, Jan Sudhoff and Kim Bettinger, walked towards the candidates, Fred Sowar was announced as the 1988 Homecoming King and the crown was placed on his head.

The court watched the Lady CAVS play their last game on the "Pit" floor for the year. They went on to defeat MAC rival, the Parkway Panthers.

At Your Feet

February twentieth was a day of excitement and considerable expense as students prepared for the Boys' Homecoming Dance. The typical CHS girl began rushing around early that morning, laying out her new dress ($40), trying it on one more time, and scurrying to the store to pick up hair spray ($2), pantyhose ($2), and, of course, her date's boutonniere ($3.50). On the way home she bought the perfect pair of earrings ($6) to accent her dress and shoes ($28) just made for the occasion. (Her total . . . $81.50)

The typical girl's boyfriend paid for the two tickets in advance ($4), wore last year's suit (dry cleaning . . . $4.50), and borrowed Dad's tie. This savings, however, was soon divided between the car wash ($5), the gas station ($10), the flower shop ($10) and dinner-for-two ($17 plus tip . . . $2.50). (His total . . . $53)

Broke by now the typical couple drove to the dance. The weather was cold but inside the gym the temperature climbed to great heights. The dance broke out in a WILD streak when gals and guys kicked up their feet to the song "Wipe-Out." Although the date became quite expensive (Total . . . $134.50 plus tax), the memories were priceless!

Under the direction of Civics Teacher Jeff Parker seniors from CHS observed Youth in Government Week. Student officials elected by their peers served the village in their respective capacities for one day. Jason Hemmelgarn became wastewater treatment plant supervisor, Fred Sowar became Coldwater's mayor and Kim Bettinger was street supervisor. The rest of the week seniors worked for the village painting curbsides, patching streets, flushing fire hydrants, cleaning equipment, picking up litter and doing whatever needed to be done.

Through these years we've traveled,
In times of happiness and tears.
You've given us many memories,
And helped us through our tears.

Through these years you've grown with us
And showed us the right ways to go.
We've looked up to you in times of need,
And you told us the right things to know.

Through these years of memories,
You've given us many to keep.
Memories we'll look back on with a smile,
And memories making us weep.

There's only one thing we can give you,
In return for these years which were great.
That's a Prom that you will never forget.
From the class of '89 to the class of '88.

SERVICE

Many CHS students serve our schools and community and go unrecognized — mass servers, vocalists, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, local 4-H clubs and church groups. Several Coldwater students received Congressional Awards which recognize the Initiative, Achievement and Excellence of young people who achieve high goals in voluntary public service, personal development and physical fitness activities. Gold, silver or bronze medals were presented to the following students for voluntary service: Teresa Hoying, Lara Homan, Alan Post, Scott Gels, Renee Stiles, Brian Rosenbeck, Amy Brunswick, Sandy Heckler and Deb Rosenbeck.

In Memory of OUR FRIENDS

BRYAN G. ABELS

So many people imagine that death cruelly separates us from our loved ones. Even devoted people are led to believe this great and sad mistake. When our loved ones die, they do not leave us. They remain. They do not go to some dark and distant place. They simply begin their eternity. We do not see them because we are still in the darkness of the world. But their spiritual eyes, filled with the light of heaven, are always watching us as they wait for the day when we shall share their perfect joy. We are all born for heaven and one by one we end this life of tears to begin our life in endless happiness.

On August 25, 1987, Bryan Abels and Matt Huber were taken from us after a tragic accident that occurred the night before the school year was to begin.

The Class of 1988 will always treasure and remember the moments we shared with these two friends. Although they are no longer with us, Bryan and Matt will live in our thoughts forever.

MATTHEW L. HUBER

If we could have one life time wish,
One dream that could come true,
We'd wish with all our aching hearts,
For the yesterdays and you.
We didn't get to say goodbye,
Which always brings regret,
But we loved you dearly and
We never will forget.
You went away so quickly,
Your voice forever stilled,
You left a spot in our hearts,
No one can ever fill.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
A part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.

Senior girls are consumed by a profound lecture.

Packing a bag for the get-away, Dan Fortman is seen before his great escape.

SENIOR WILLS

I, BRIAN ALT, will my ability to B.S. through Civics class to any junior, and to Jeremy I will my superb ability to get pulled over and not get a ticket.

I, ANGIE ASHCRAFT, will nothing to no one.

I, PAUL BALSTER, will a pillow to an upcoming, unsuspecting trig student for first period on Monday with Mr. Bruns and some of my "growing ability" to Floyd or Mr. J, whoever needs it more.

I, SUE BECKMAN, being of no mind and body, will Brend "Braw" Stachler an extra set of lungs cause God knows she needs it, and to the rest of the gang to keep up the "Litness" tradition.

I, SCOTT BERGMAN, will my ability to clean Bedroom in a record time to Noodle Brudswick and my fussball ability to Feltzy, Maygor, and Jimmy Schmidt.

I, SCOTT BERTKE, will to Dan Dysert the ability to pass English on the last day, and to Jeff Heiby, the ability to come in last at district judging and go to state contest.

I, KIM BETTINGER, will the ability to break Janel Kremer's and my time in the running of the obstacles of Depweg Road . . . running through woods, climbing over fences and crawling through corn fields . . .

to my house, in a record time of 8 minutes and 21 seconds.

I, RICHARD BJORNBERG, will my school spirit to my host brother David and his freshmen gang, my foreign humor to Mark Vagedes because he's the only one who understands it, and to Chuck, my "haircut."

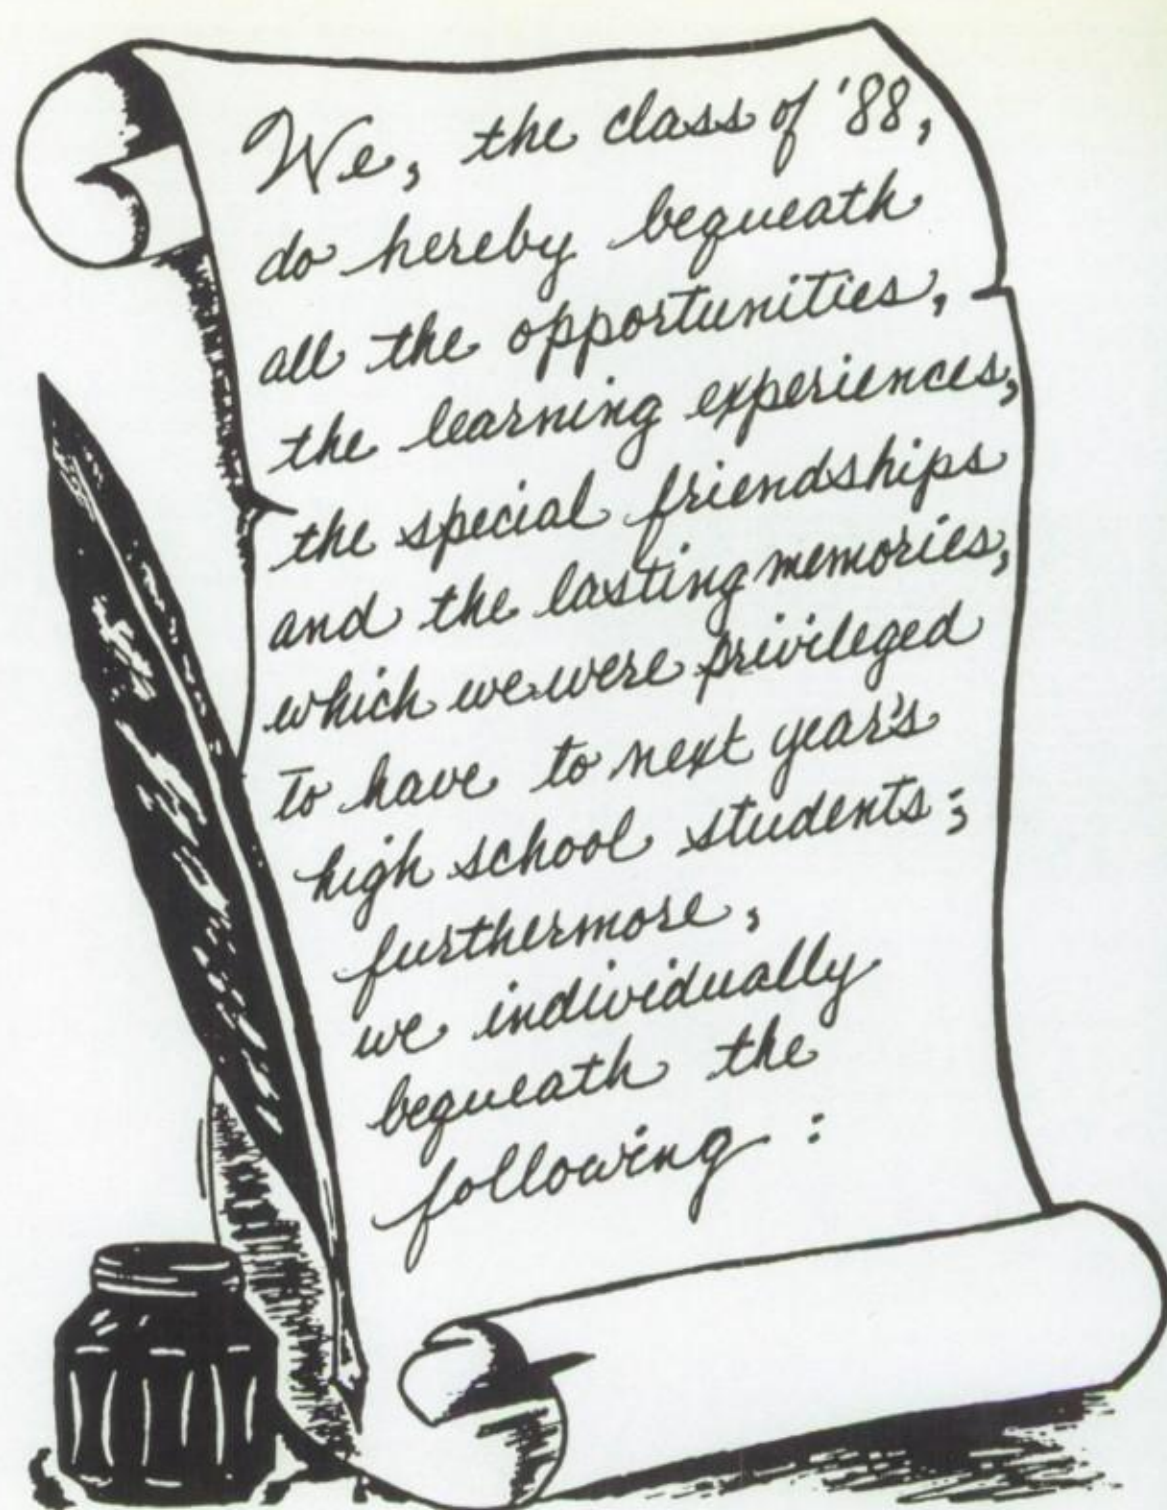

I, LINDA BJORNSDOTTIR, will all next year's exchange students my great ability to gain weight here (they can have it all) and my halo I will to my baby sister Karen (she needs it).

I, KEVIN BOECKMAN, will nothing to no one because I need everything I got.

I, DALE BROERING, will my driving confidence and ability to Miss Strow, my height to Mr. J and C.T. and both pages of my English notes to Ruth Homan.

I, ALICIA BRUNS, will my long legs to Teresa Moeller for the mile-relay, and to the rest of the upcoming seniors to get through their Senior year, no matter how busy it may be.

I, AMY BRUNSWICK, will Connie Knapke the nickname "Shake", Carmen Bruns all the fun times in gymnastics and to keep the team going, and finally, Melissa Kingery and Julie Weigel all the great times we had working together at the Raquet Club.

We, the class of '88,
do hereby bequeath
all the opportunities,
the learning experiences,
the special friendships
and the lasting memories, which we were privileged to have to next year's high school students;
furthermore,
we individually bequeath the following:

I, DAVE BRUNSWICK, will my ability to be late to Miss Finke's English class to Joe Toth and Jason May and my astounding brain power to my brother Doug.

I, JACKIE BUENING, will Woody and Sexy Toes a truly endless summer of parties and open airs, Squirrel Jr. my control, and Penny, my little sis, the best of luck in h.s. and my bedroom.

I, GARY BUFFENBARGER, will Joel Howe a "Yo!" and a box of Frosted Flakes, Rick, Paul, Dave, and the rest of the guys my "Vette", Richard Bumstead and Jeff Stachler a WWF wrestling tape, and Roger and Greg, my track shoes.

I, PATTI CLUNE, will my ability to have three study halls a day and still have homework to all those "lucky" students who don't have any study halls.

I, SHANNON CROWELL, will the intelligence that I do have to Scott Kahlig who I feel could use it and to Steve Bruggeman all my loose leaf paper because he never seems to have any.

I, DENISE DILLER, will my center desk in trig to any upcoming senior taking the course, my fine ability to teach the sweet, cute kids to any senior who is going to be a CCD teacher, and to all seniors, the fun times "senior life" brings.

I, RON DILLER, will my front row seat in civics to anyone who can stand looking at Mr. Parker that long.

I, JENNIFER DOLL, will my terrific singing voice (HA! HA!) to Lynn Woeste and Jenny Siefring and my seat in economics to anyone stupid enough to take the class.

I, DARLA DROESCH, will Brenda Stachler my ability to get out of trouble (God knows she needs it.)

I, SONYA DYSERT, will to Sandy Huber and Kathy Alig, mine and Lisa Mescher's late Thursday nights at the Third Time.

I, JULIA ERBEN, will Jeff P. all my procrastination, Jess Ramsey, my skip-days, my kitchen work to my sister Beth, and my great time at the Knapke home to their next (!) student.

I, RALPH J. EWRY I, will Ryan my place on Mrs. Bracy's "s-list", Noodle my stereo, and a "16" on a calculus test to anybody who wants to get an "A" in there.

I, GREG EYINK, will my hernia to Mr. Jeff Parker.

I, SCOTT EYINK, will to Tobe — Geek and Coon-Slavik two free fun-packed weekends at the Farm and to Howard-be-known, a free shopping spree at Harts.

I, KAREN FINDLEY, will to Julie Ebbing and her friends the ability to have as much fun during lunch as Amy, Michele, Kelly and I had, and the beam to the Coldwater gymnastics team, for they will now be able to work on it.

I, KATJA FINK, will the copies of all my English tests to the next German exchange student, and my theater mask earrings to Jessica Ramsey.

I, DAN FORTMAN, will "AH!" to the wonder boy.

I, THERESA FULLENKAMP, will my little sis the ability to get through 4 years of math with more success than I did, Leprasie to always keep the force and the "beasty" spirit alive in the deepest, most secret reaches of her heart and Freddy back to the Weigels.

I, SCOTT GELS, will my keen ability to sweet-talk teachers into what I wanted to Matt Slavik, my leaping and rebounding ability to "bone", and my high jumping ability to any upcoming freshman, if we ever get another one.

I, MIKE GILMORE, will to any upcoming offensive tackle my knee problem throughout the season and my jersey "77" to my little brother Matt.

I, NITA GRIESDORN, will to "Woody" my ability to stay out all night (weekend) long and not get into trouble for it and to "Sexy Toes" all 28 pairs of my shoes.

I, BILL GRUSS, will my BeerNut sweatshirt to Doug Brunswick and Bubby, the Stroh Man, to Steve Bruggeman.

I, DIANE HARTINGS, will my "Red Bomb" to my little brother Allen if it starts by then, and also my ability to almost have 100% in serving to "Steiny".

I, KELLY HAYES, will my ability of not being able to find my way home from Celina to anyone brave enough to take a long "road trip."

I, SANDI HECKLER, will my height to Angie Garmann so she can play center for the basketball team and my benchwarming ability to Connie Timmerman (Don't sit there as long as I did!).

I, TIM HEIBY, will the ability for the FFA's Parliamentary Procedure Team to beat Jackie "BJ" Kemp of National Trail.

I, JEFF HEINRICHS, will my front row seat in civics to Cubbie.

I, JASON L. HEMMELGARN, will the "lude" to sis Kris, my lucky number "#7" to my lil' bro' John, and everything else to the Pervis family.

I, MIKE HILDEBRANDT, will my terrible attendance record as a model for future generations.

I, ERIC HOGAN, will my ability to drive all s.f. and never get busted to anyone who likes to get s.f. all week.

I, CHAD R. HOGENKAMP, will my ability to party, flirt and never get serious, and never get caught with another girl to Mark Vagades.

I, JEAN HOMAN, will to Ann Post my bad attitude in band (may she get as many nasty stares as I did), to Ann E., my morals, to Lynn and Cheryl, many more "great" times at the "Hole", and to my sister Marie, a real life.

I, KAREN HOMAN, with my incredible ability to stay awake during classes to my sleepy-eyed brother who gets "bombed" in history every Monday.

I, MIKE HOMAN, will my crashing ability to Neal Wenning.

I, RUSS HOMAN, will to upcoming senior, Eric Miller, my junior English seat that I occupied for two years, also the ability to little "Quack" Stachler to pick up all the women like his older brother "Scoot" did.

I, BETH HOYNG, will free memberships to the crash club to anyone who doesn't know how to drive, my driving ability to no one because I have none, and to Brenda, Sue, Ruthy, Cheryl, Monica, Rut, Deb, Gina, Cleaver, Feltzy, Koopis, and Hud to keep up the partying!

I, MICHELE KESSEN, will my seat in Accounting II to any upcoming student so they may have as good of conversations as Amy S., Kelly H., and Karen F., and I had and to my little "sis" Miranda to handle that weekend partying to the best of her ability!

I, CINDY KINNINGER, will to Michelle G. and Tami C. Alex so they can get around on weekends and my front seat in civics class to anyone who wants it.

I, ALAN J. KLINGSHIRN, will my unused civics book to anyone who might need it, and my great working ability to Rick Kremer so that he may some day fulfill his dream of becoming ass't manager at Brodbeck's.

I, MIKE "KLOD" KLOSTERMAN, will to Tony Dues and Steve Howell the ability to use "AATT" as much as possible.

I, JACK KNAPKE, will my "guns" to Krista Eyink, "me" to Ronda Crouch, my tonka hat to Noodle, a Tonka brother, and a big-time receding hairline to Tony "Bone" Dues and all his children.

I, DAR KOESTERS, will my B-B-4 membership to any unfortunate freshman female who is in need of it and everything else goes to "Darwood".

I, JANEL KREMER, will my All American Moving Crud (AMC) to my little sister Jodi, my most total points award in gymnastics to Carmen "Carmie" Bruns, and last but not least my great gymnastic ability to Molly "Skipper" Piper. Madonna rules!

I, REX KREMER, will MACE my football ability, AMG the great number 14, John Crider 15 ways of cheating at euchre, and Becky Moorman some white socks.

I, RANDY KUNK, will my will-writing-ability to anybody who is willing enough to take it so they will have the ability to write a better will than this.

I, TRACI MAIER, will Nancy Post my "arch" for the high jump, Nichole Mustard my jump rope and to keep the pants tradition "up", Connie Alig my B-ball shoes in case hers fall apart again(!) and my chemistry seat to my little sister, so that she can have as much "fun" as I did.

I, CORY MCKIBBEN, will my driving ability to Cleaver, a case to Thobe and Slavik, my ability to party to Hud, Koop and Feltzy, my ability to stay out of trouble to Gina, Deb, Lisa, Sue, Brenda, Cheryl, and Ruth, and to Shane I will the ability to walk, not drive, up steps.

I, DEB MCKINZIE, will my ability to hit, even though I'm 5'3", to Steiny; and my membership in the BB4 to any unlucky freshman who needs it.

I, JENNY MARBAUGH, will my ability to miss nearly 50 days of school in one semester and still pass but for reasons other than mine to Brenda, Deb, Gina, Sue, Rut, Cheryl, Monica, Ruthie, Feltzy, Koo-pis and Hud.

I, LISA "ERNIE" MESCHER, will my dimples to Sandy "Sexy Toes" Huber, my Thursday nights out to Kathy "Woody" Alig and Suzanne, my parking space at the Third Time to no one because I'll still need it, and the thunderchicken to anyone who can finish paying for it.

I, JULIE MILLER, will my ability to "stick my foot in my mouth" to Tracy Muhlenkamp, my Mickey Mouse locker to Julie Weigel (keep up the "Mick tradition"), and my detention-free high school years to my little brother, Chris.

I, BRAD "RUGGY" "TANK" MUHLENKAMP, will my great scholastic ability to anyone that can fit it all in their head, my school books to the idiot that's dumb enough to take them, and my blurry weekends to Tobey, Matt, and "Cleaver" Kahlig. The Dog Pound forever!!!

I, KELLY MUHLENKAMP, will Tammy M. my Buckeye spirit, Jill, Trish, and little Sharon my morning enthusiasm, Matt M. some tango lessons, and Tony some change.

I, LARIE MUHLENKAMP, will my ability to talk and walk down steps to Beth B., my ability to sleep and drive to Julie Broering, all my fun at B & W to Dawn, my ability to roam the hallways and never get caught and my fluent spic to Christina F., and my ability to be a grub to Jenny Rainey!

I, RENEE MUHLENKAMP, will my eternally messy bedroom to my organized sister Carrie and my basketball moves and height to Nancy Post.

I, ERIC NIEKAMP, will my demo experience in the high school parking lot, to anyone who has the guts enough to trash their car as much as Daryl and I did, and not hit another car.

I, ANDREW OLSEN, will this will willfully to anyone who will fulfill this will with willful justice, and my ability to crash a car 3 times in one year, and to tick I leave my tan (God knows you need it).

I, DEBBY PEASE, will the speaker poles, at the drive-in, to Jenny Rainey — throw them in good use.

I, HANNA KAISA PERNA, will my well-used dictionary to the next Finnish exchange student, my great ability to get in trouble to my dear sister, Melissa "Party Animal" Kingery.

I, LINDA POST, will my excellent driving abilities to my sister Ann so that she can keep her car on the road, and to the Squib, the ability not to get grounded the last 9 weeks of her senior year.

I, SHELLEY POST, will my positive attitude to Tammy M., my demented song writing ability to Jenny R., my "ripping" ability to Lynn B., Tiger, and Piglet, and to J.P. a chill pill.

I, SUE POST, will to Beth Bruggeman, who needs alot, my CYO basketball abilities because Tracy Muhlenkamp doesn't need them and to the "Track" girls I will my "Bad attitude". (May you use it as well as I did.)

I, BOB POWELL, will my ability to sleep with my eyes open in psychology class.

I, KAREN PRENGER, will my ability to do nothing in study hall except talk to Carmen Bruns, my seat in civics and my ability not to fall asleep during Mr. Parker's lectures to any unfortunate upcoming senior.

I, SANDRA K. REIGELSPERGER, will my ability to have fun in high school to Shelly and Becky Robb, my ability to develop pictures in photography class to Becky Robb, and my study hall seat to my nephew Jamie Severt.

I, SHERI RENTZ, will all my clothes to Gina Dues, and to Doug, Swanson, Steve, Shane, Schwartz, Todd and Scrod I will my ability to play uke and to keep the party tradition down the basement.

I, CAROLYN ROSE, will everything I don't need to my brother Dale because he needs all he can get.

I, DEBBIE ROSENBECK, will my seat in Tri- Star class to anyone who is willing to get up early in the morning, and to my brother Brian my ability to drive so he won't back into parked cars, and to my sister Jen I will my ability to get ready fast for school.

I, LONA RUTSCHILLING, will my little sis, Lisa, the ability to eat spaghetti and popcorn for breakfast and to all the sophomores in German 3 my ability to speak fluently.

I, LAURA SALM, will my ability to be kicked out of a band performance for missing a minuscule 15 minutes of practice to any rifle member.

I, CRAIG SCHMIDT, will my ability to go out on the weeknights and somehow manage to make it to school the next morning (sometimes) to D.W. and my wrestling skills to Booter, Mokar, Snibler, and Obanger.

I, MELISSA SCHNEIDER, will my fast green Nova to my brother Shawn to use on weekends.

I, BETTINA SCHROEDER, will my chemistry abilities to my chemistry partner Corey Obringer.

I, SCOTT SELHORST, being of sound mind and not so sound body, will Mike Lochtefeld my nickname "Crip" and the splinters from my crutches after I smash them.

I, LISA "BERT" SHISLER, will Sexy Toes Huber the ability to come home late and not get grounded and to Woody Alig, I will Oscar's soul for "The Coon."

I, DARYL SIEFRING, will my body and haircut to Roman Homan since he needs it bad and "Marvin" to Cleaver so he can have a real car.

I, TAMMY SMITH, will Steiny my ability of being the shortest person on the volleyball team and to keep the "PUTS" tradition alive and my position of Treasurer of the Student Council to Tammy Muhlenkamp.

I, FRED SOWAR, will my Tonka hat to GUOD and all my extra ice cream spoons to anyone who can eat enough ice cream to take my place as Baskin Robbins' dude of the year.

I, ALLEN SPOLTMAN, will all the weekends in high school to anybody who knows how to use them.

I, SHELLY SPRIGGS, will my sister Stacy the Mustang and my ability to get a parking ticket on Depweg Road and to Steve Howell my Georgetown Hoyas spirit.

I, SCOTT STACHLER, will to any underclassman guy to have as many dates with different girls as possible during your senior year! (I lost count at the middle of the year.)

I, CRAIG STAMMEN, will to the Junior Class my ability to get to Knap's first at lunch.

I, JENNY STAMMEN, will my job at "Arnies" to anyone who will take it, and my study halls to any upcoming senior who likes to sleep alot.

I, GLEN STEINBRUNNER, will my short hair to all of those people who abused me because of it and were too chicken to try it.

I, AMY SUDHOFF, will to Beth Bruggeman my nickname "Curby" so she can put it to good use and to any upcoming advanced accounting student the ability to have as much fun during lunch as Karen, Kelly, Michele, and I did.

I, JAN SUDHOFF, will all the lockerroom toilets in the world to Ruth Homan and also the "blue bomb" to my younger sister Kelly, if it lasts that long.

I, KEN TEBBE, in sound mind and body, will my CYO basketball ability to charge someone and not get called for it to Rodney Homan, my Comet to my brother Glen to replace his P.O.S. car, and my front row seat in Mr. B's class to anyone who wants it.

I, BRUCE TURNER, will my front seat in Mr. Swartzel's class to Kevin Thobe, my driving ability to Chris "the hamberger" Hamberg and my "77 Bonneville" to a museum.

I, MIRIAM VONDERHAAR, will my "abused" student status by Mr. Schwieterman to any future senior unfortunate enough to land in that position.

I, BRIAN WENDEL, will all my worthwhile assets to Cleaver and Thobe so they can burn it!

I, SHELLY WENDEL, will my ability to keep up with all the gossip, even though I'm only here for three periods to anyone taking Tri-Star, and to Ken (Smurf) Tebbe — Good Luck in the Air Force; I'll miss you.

I, RONA WINT, will Alicia Rammel my ice skating technique and Connie Knapke my cheerleading ability. May they both use them well.

I, LYNN WOLTERS, will nothing to no one, for I have nothing to will.

I, STEVE WOLTERS, will my sister Julie my seat in Spanish if she can handle it another three years and to Bench and the boys keep the tradition before games ALIVE.

I, JILL WYNK, will my worthless physiology notebook to Tammy and Trisha Muhlenkamp and a zipper to Scott Kahlig so he can keep his big mouth shut.

COMMENCEMENT

Gary Buffenbarger marches to "Pomp and Circumstances."

Seniors line up for the processional.

Rona Wint and Kelly Muhlenkamp sing "In My Dreams" in memory of Bryan Abels and Matt Huber, members of the class who passed away last year.

Principal Larry Fair introduces the valedictorian for the class of 1988, Rex Kremer.

Coldwater High School's 89th Commencement was held on Sunday, May 29, 1988, at Cavalier Stadium. One-hundred, sixteen seniors paraded to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" performed by the high school band under the direction of Mr. Don Stewart. Following the prayer of invocation by senior Julie Miller, the band played the National Anthem.

Jack Knapke delivered the salutatory message and Rex Kremer gave the valedictory address. The Board of Education presented the diplomas to the Class of '88, and once again seniors presented certificates to their parents, thanking them for their love and support.

Mr. Fair presents the salutatorian plaque to Jack Knapke who is also co-recipient of the Rauh scholarship.

One row at a time seniors file up to get their diplomas.

Superintendent Wayne Miller awards Julie Miller the Sue Highley Scholarship and also the Rauh Scholarship, which she shares with Jack Knapke.

Dale Broering offers the benediction.

Staff members are seated as a group for the ceremonies.

Karen Prenger is caught moments before Commencement begins.

Posing prior to graduation ceremonies are Tammy Smith, Kris Heitkamp, Shelly Spriggs, Darla Droesch, Kim Bettinger, Sue Beckman, Traci Maier, Jenni Marbaugh and Deb McKinzie.

Jacki Mueller straightens her cap while chatting with a friend.

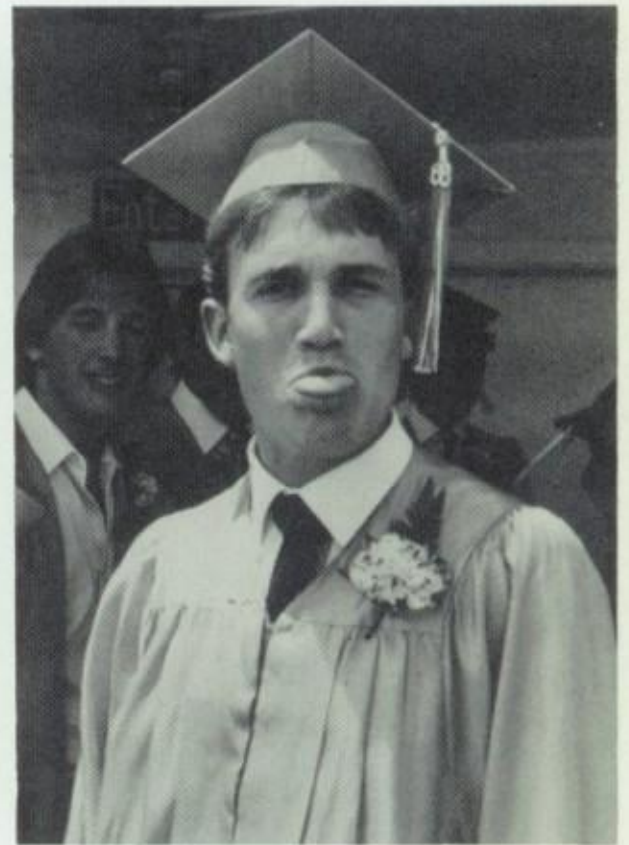

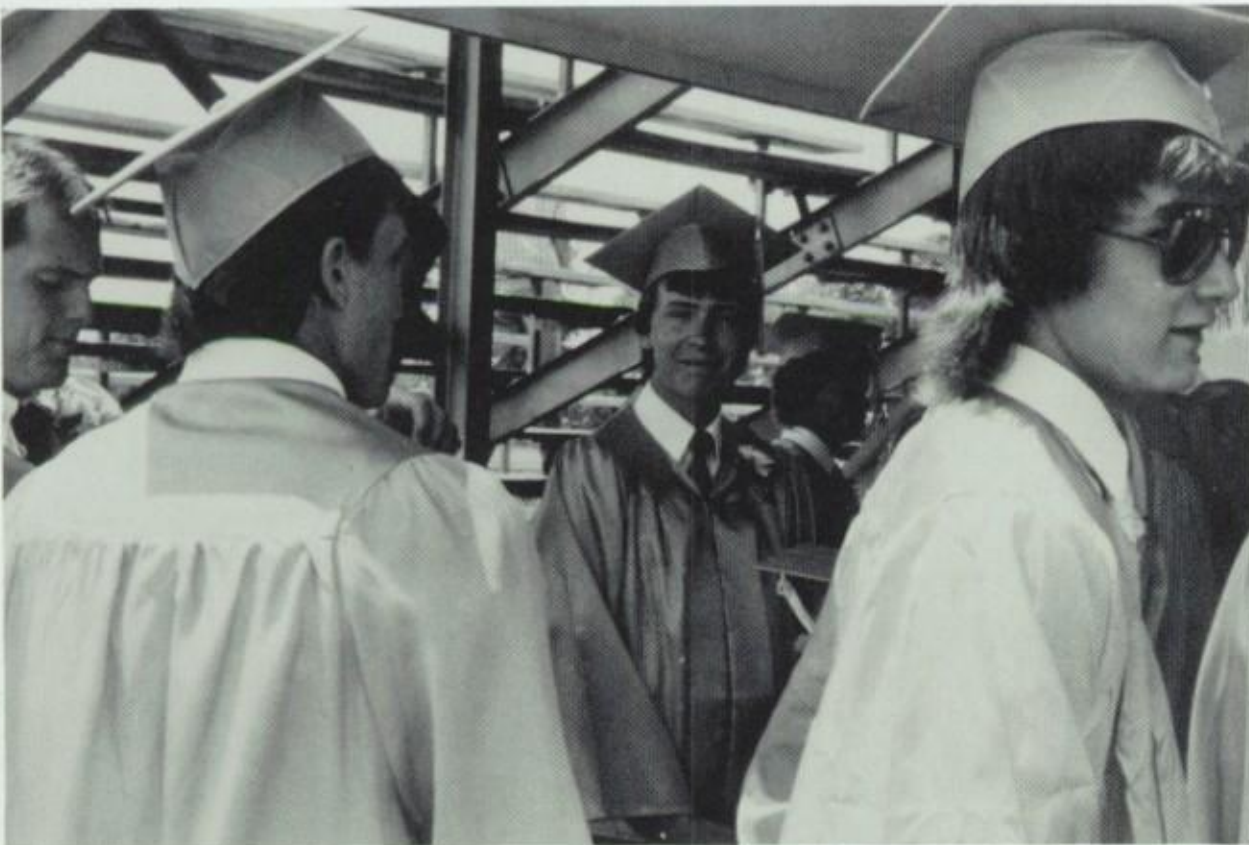

Mr. Stewart sits with the commencement band before the processional starts.

Eric Hogan, Bob Powell, Gary Buffenbarger and Jim Wiechart await the word to line up.

Graduation

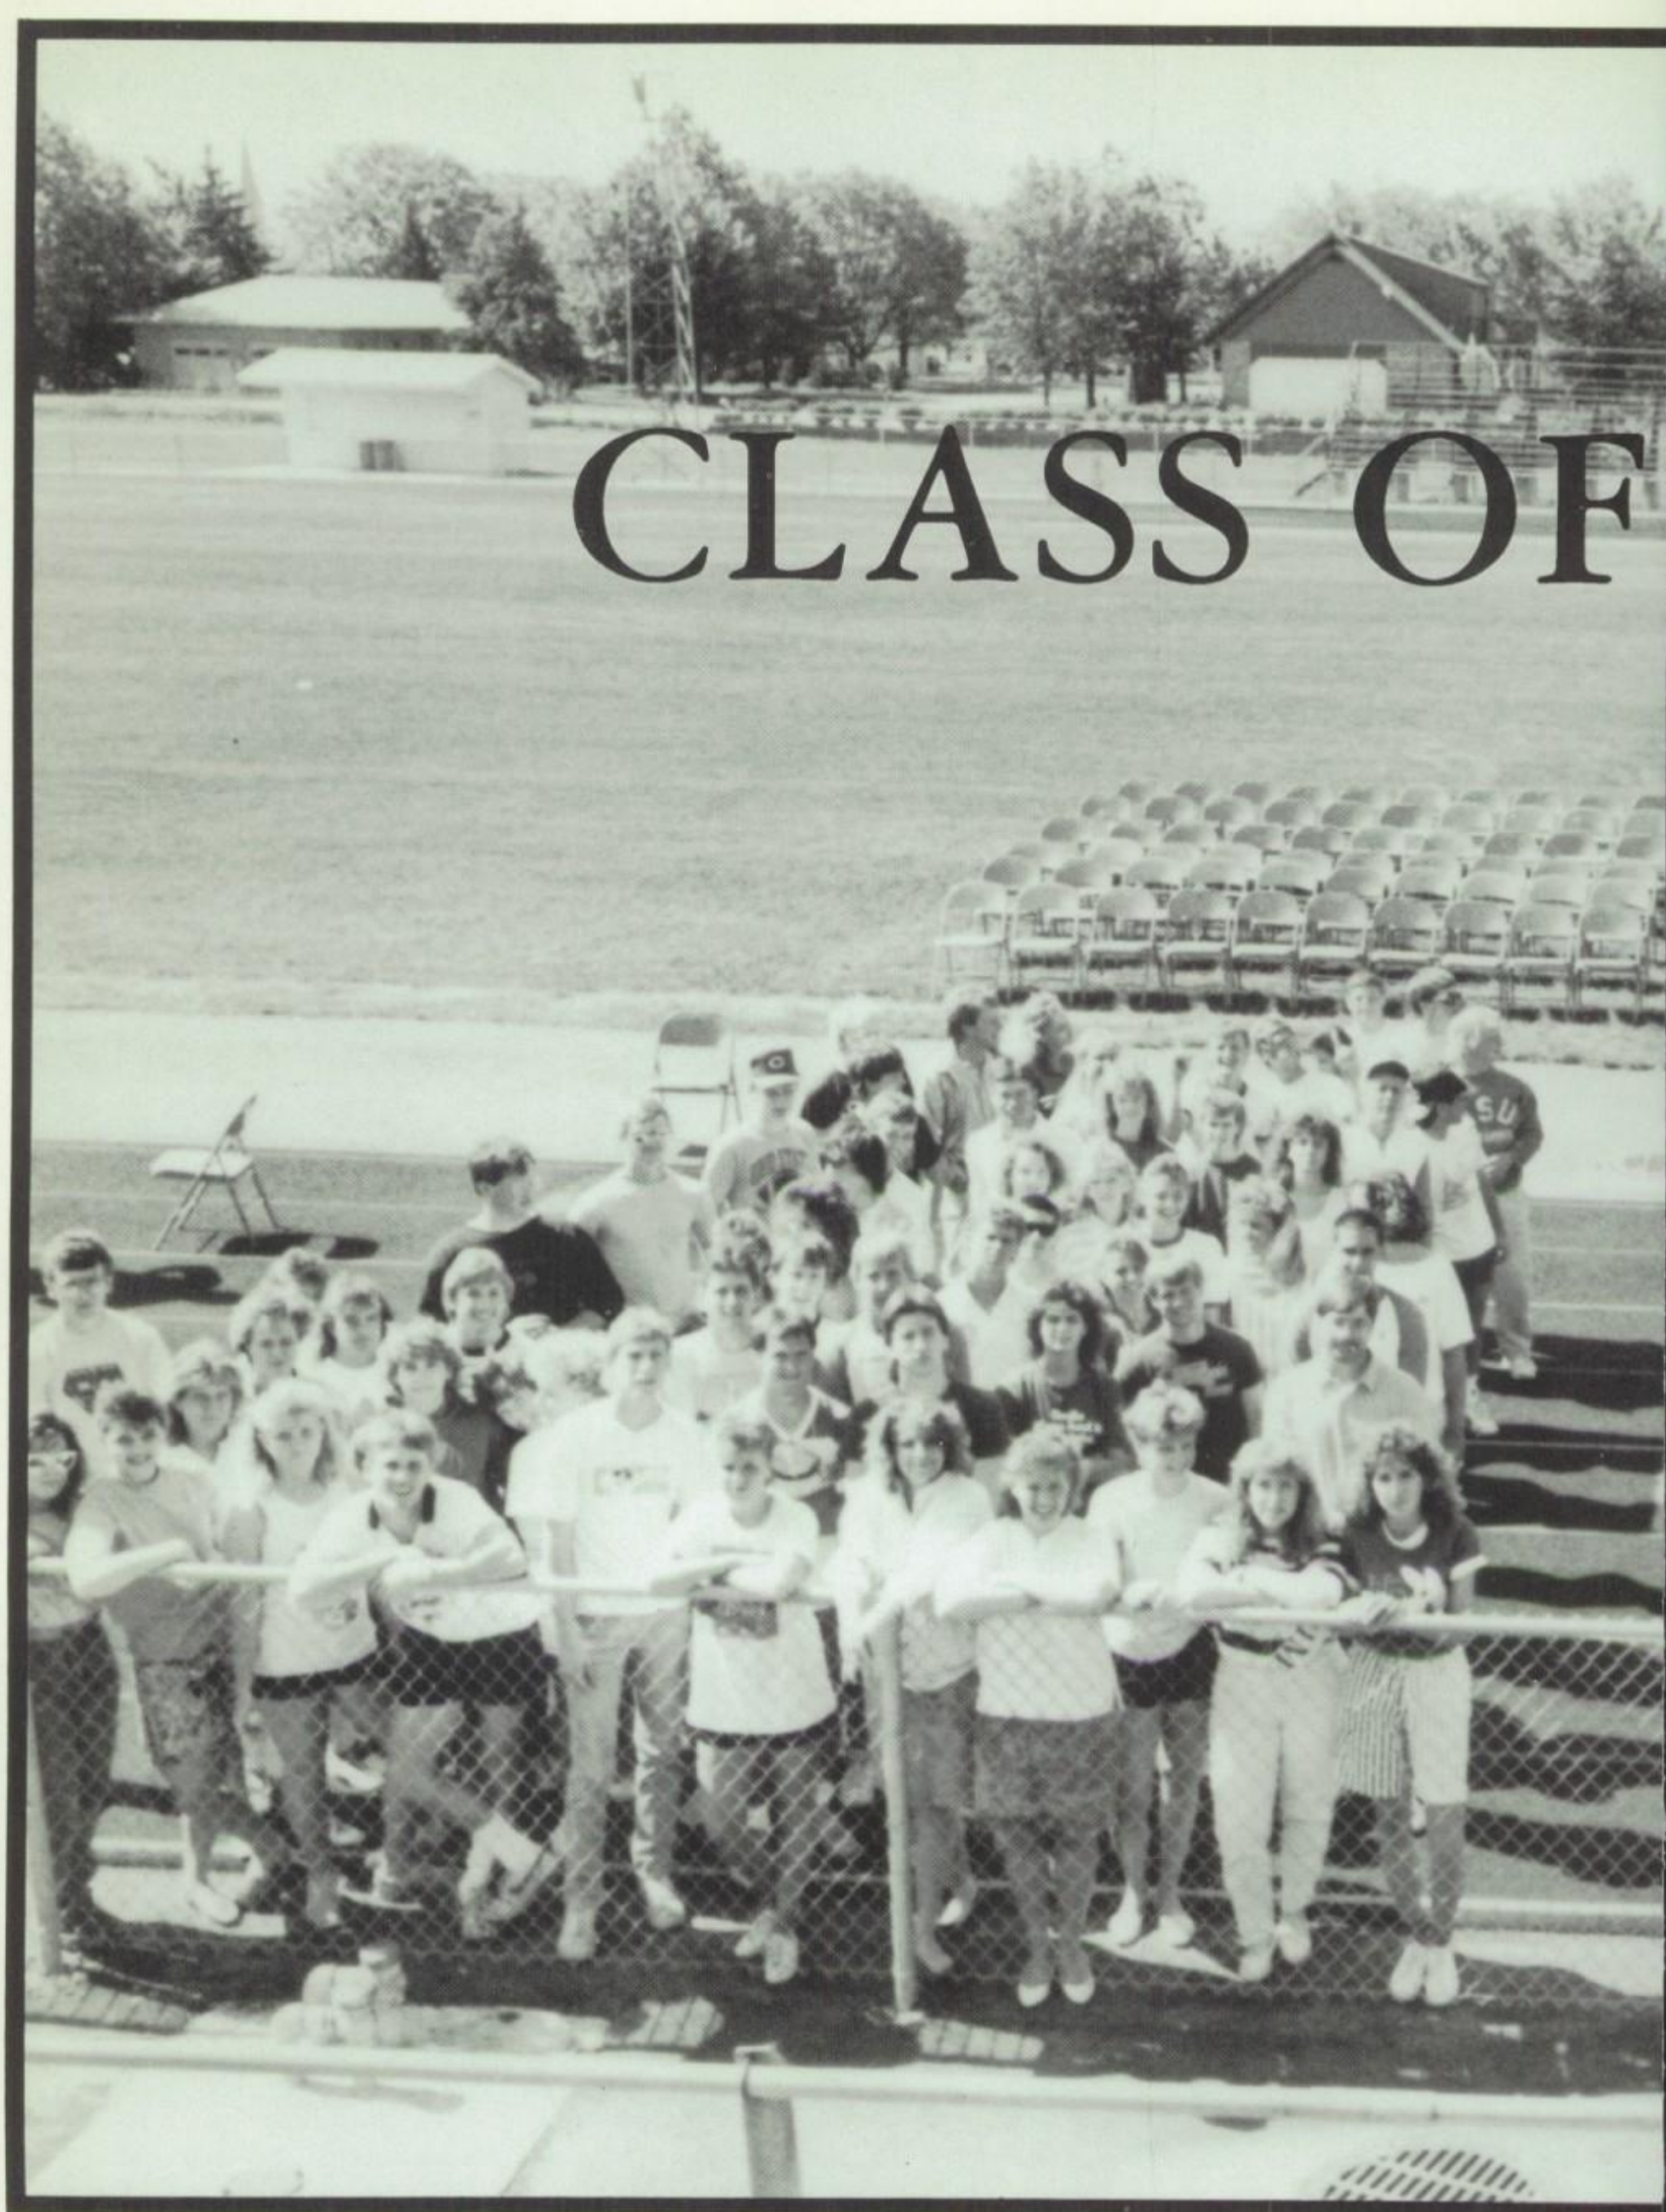

Everyone ignores the photographer except Bruce Turner.

TRI-STAR SENIORS

Tri-Star visitors watch Lisa Mescher in senior I.O.E.

Rod Moorman operates a milling machine.

Karen Prenger, Sheri Rentz and Shelly Wendel welcome Mr. Jackson to Word Processing.

Mike Klosterman and Chris Drees take a time-out.

One CHS student, who attended Tri-Star classes in St. Marys and who was a member of the Medical Careers V.I.C.A. (Vocational- Industrial Clubs of America), successfully competed in the State V.I.C.A. Skills Olympics. Deb Rosenbeck won a bronze medal and third place in the "Nursing Assistant Skills" category in Columbus after qualifying with a regional second place. Deb will pursue a nursing career.

SENIOR POTPOURI

What is the dumbest thing you saw a freshman do?

LAURI SALM: Getting lost going to the bathroom

JULIE MILLER: Fall all over the senior guys

SHELLY SPRIGGS: Pushing a penny for a senior

What advice would you give to underclassmen?

SHERI RENTZ: Stuff those stockings and go with the flow!

PAUL BALSTER: Don't listen to teachers. Most are more confused than you are.

LISA MESCHER: Have a good time on the weekends because it's back to school on Monday!

What was your most memorable experience in high school?

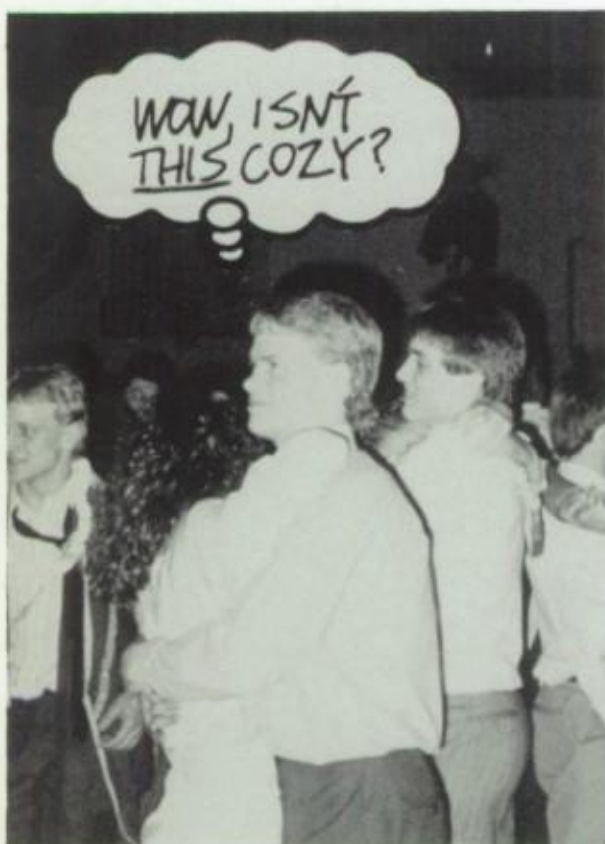

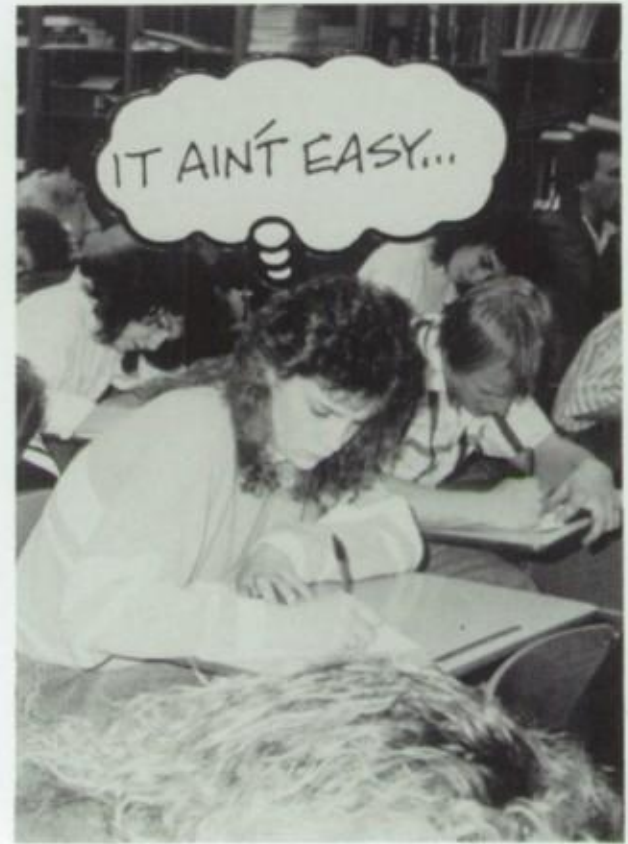

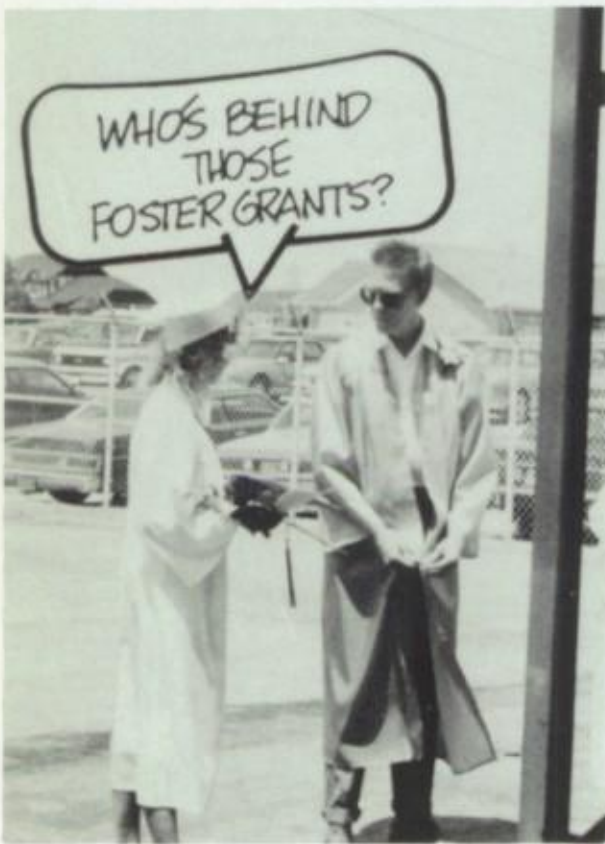

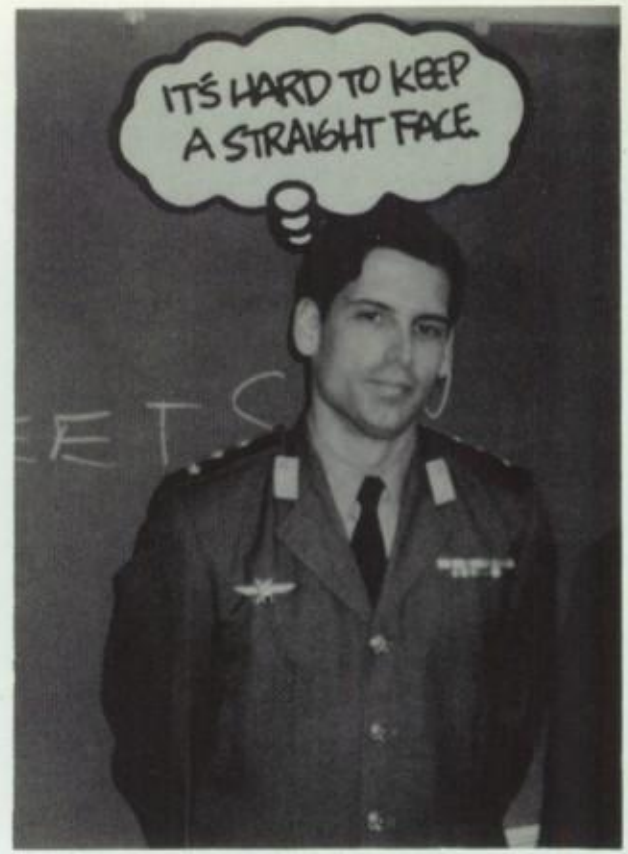

ALICIA BRUNS: Prom '87!

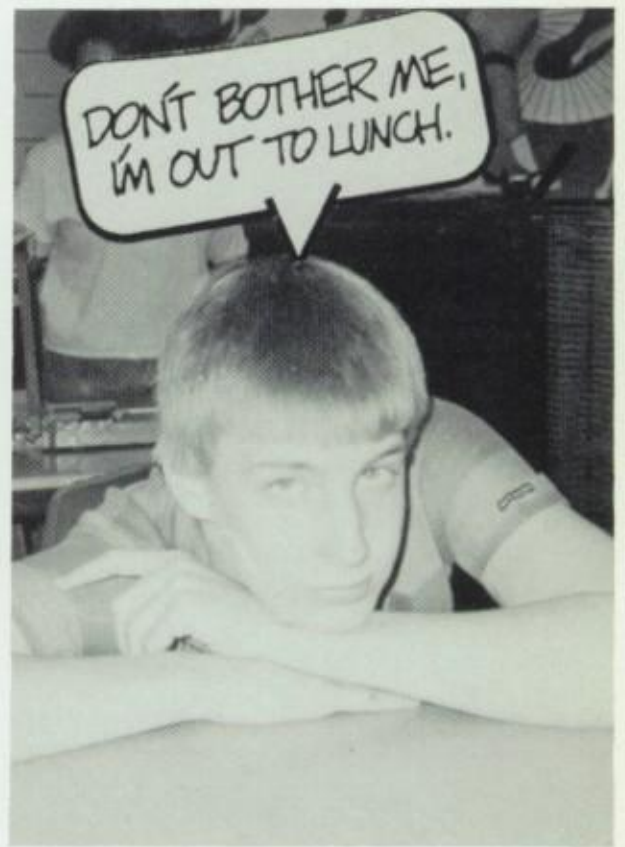

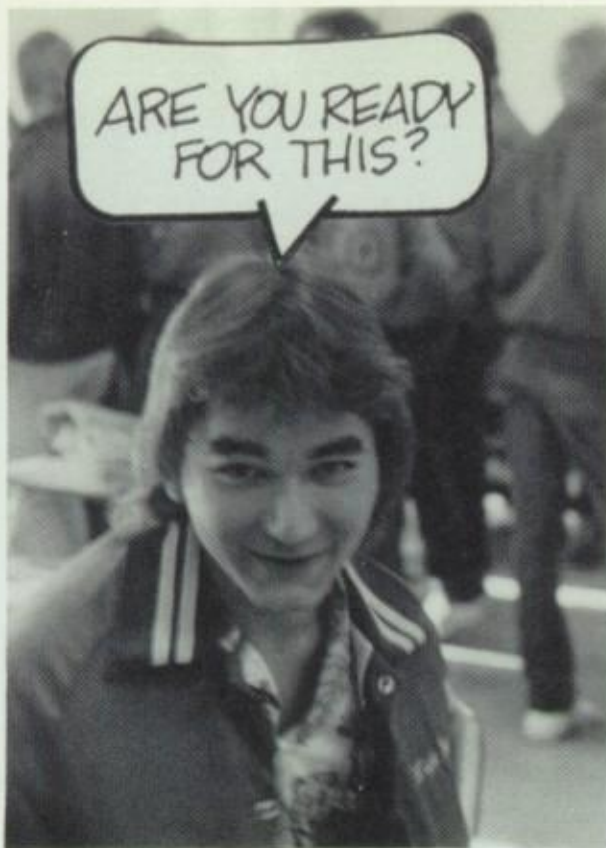

SCOTT STACHLER: Seeing pigeons fly around

ERIC NIEKAMP: Watching demolitions in the parking lot

SCOTT GELS: Getting Bill Gruss and Jack Knapke out of class just to drag them in the snow

FOREIGN FARE

RICHARD BJORNBERG

Richard Bjornberg was a member of the cross-country and track teams, an excellent photographer and a dependable member of the yearbook staff. According to Richard, the English language was one of his most difficult obstacles to overcome. Upon his return home, he will complete his high school studies as a technician and serve a mandatory eleven months in the military.

Scott Selhorst

Richard poses with his host family, Mary and Paul Honigford, and their son David.

Like this year's theme, Richard is "Bjorn" to be WILD!

Richard pours it on for the finish at a cross-country meet.

"Meatball," er . . . Richard changes books for his next class.

LINDA BJORNSDOTTIR AND JULIA ERBEN

Magdalena Bergund Bjornsdottir, or "Linda," found Coldwater to be a town of friendly people. Both Linda and Julia played volleyball for CHS, and Linda played basketball, too. Julia had difficulty understanding the language because of the slang expressions. Having an outgoing personality Julia made many friends in Coldwater.

Shelly Post and Lona

Linda picks up her diploma from board member Floyd Winner.

Standing together in the halls of CHS are Julia, Linda, Katja Fink and Bettina Schroeder, also exchange students.

Supt. Wayne Miller congratulates Julia at Commencement exercises.

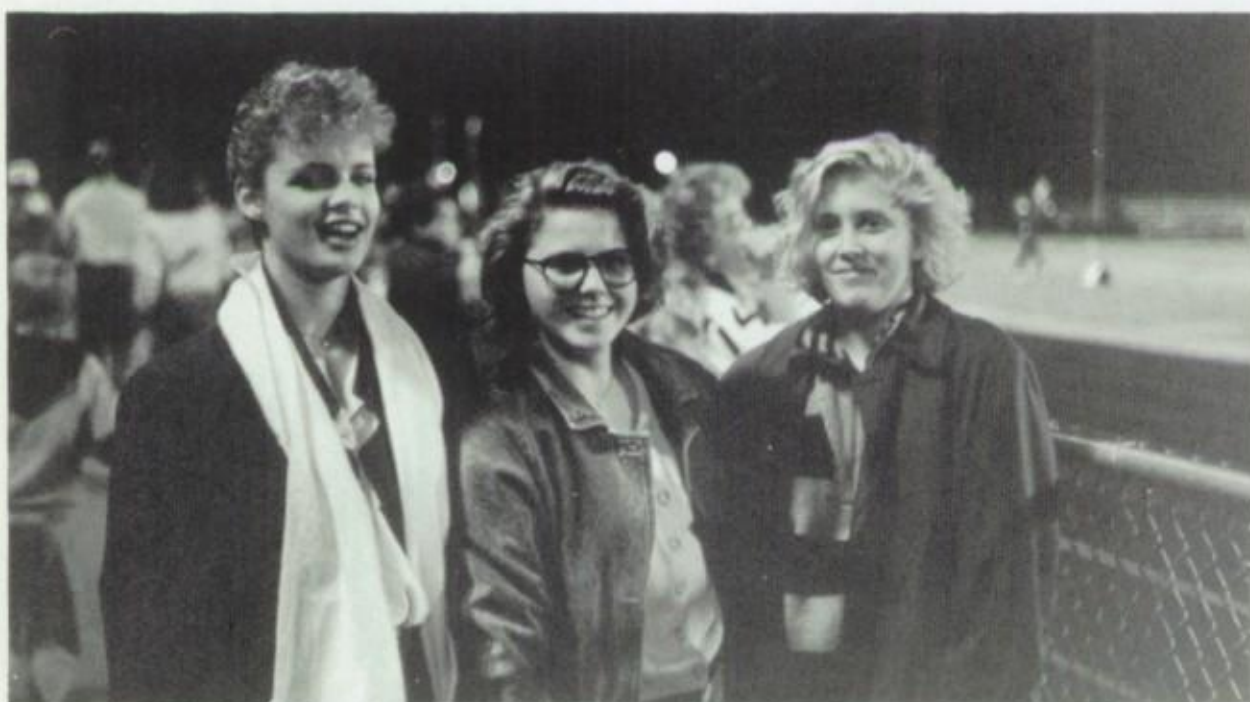

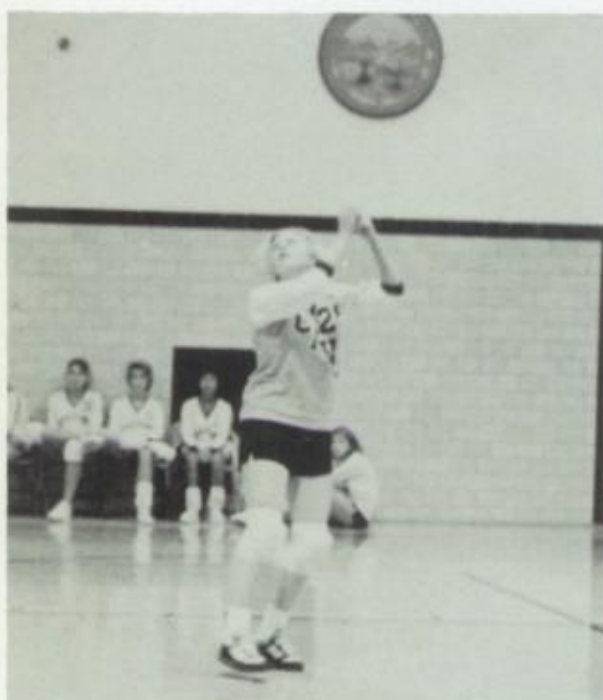

Julia is the guest of the Knapke's — Tom and Ann, daughter Beth, and son Gregg (absent).

KATJA FINK

Katja also found Coldwater residents friendly and experienced some difficulty with slang expressions. Selecting classes to take and moving through the crowded halls between classes were two other obstacles overcome with a little assistance. Katja looks forward to three more years of school back home and possibly a career as an architect.

Katja stays with Mike and Marty Luken, Jeren and Kara.

In the fall Katja gets involved in the school volleyball program.

Katja seems to be far, far away.

HANNA- KAISA PERNAA

This year has been a great experience and has taught me many things. I learned to know the U.S. and its people. I grew up, became independent, learned to love all those people I didn't even know a year ago. This school, teachers and students, and most of all my host family made this year very special to me. I would like to thank you all for that. I will remember you always. Love,

Hanna

A pianist herself Hanna enjoys helping with the musical play at CHS.

Hanna enjoys homecoming and thinks teenagers here take a lot for granted.

Holding her long-stemmed white rose Hanna and friend share a conversation before commencement exercises. Interview by S. Reigelsperger

MICHAEL RAU

Unlike Coldwater's six other exchange students Michael Rau's stay was only a month long. Michael was amused by the American way to do everything from a car, like drive-in banks and drive-through fast-food restaurants. When Michael came to Coldwater, he had already studied English for six years. After this year he will have two more years of school before he enters the military or civil service which is required in his country.

Scott Selhorst

Michael checks his spelling in typing class.

Michael is at home with the Reeds — Don, Marilyn, their son Brad and the family pets.

Classmates gang up on Brad and Michael for a WILD look.

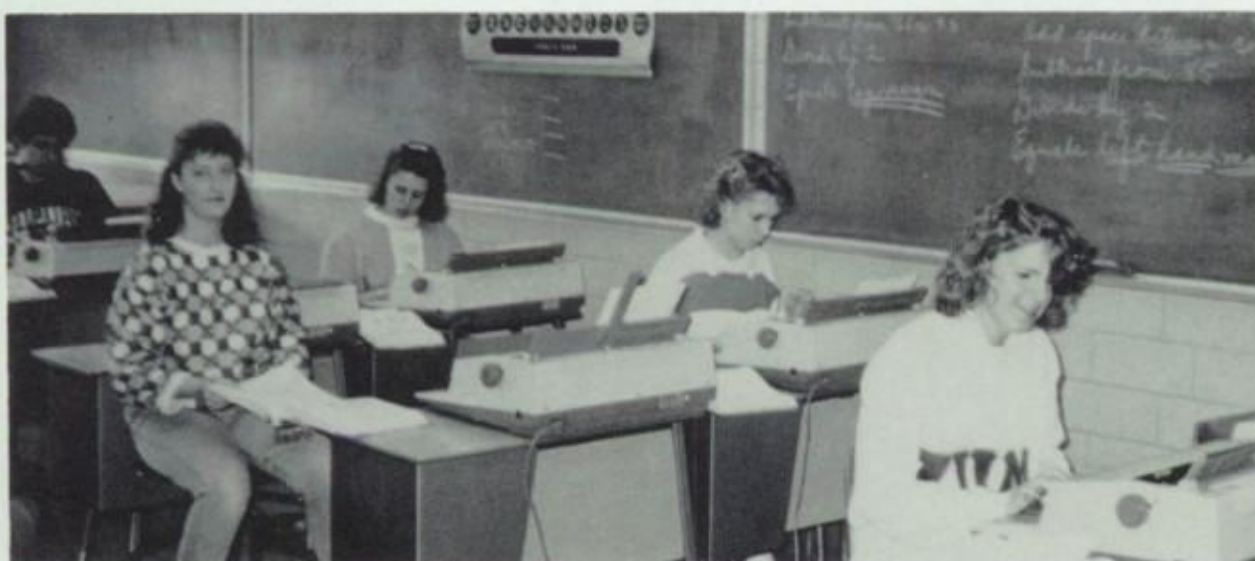

BETTINA SCHROEDER

Bettina Schroeder, "Tina" to her friends, took an active part in Coldwater's athletic program, participating in volleyball, gymnastics and track. She also enjoyed going to school activities, movies and Hardees with her friends. Tina felt the small town friendliness and people's willingness to talk made her stay more enjoyable.

Patti Clune

Hanna and Tina are all dressed up for the prom.

SNOW- BUSTERS

Although students and staff enjoy a day off now and then, snow made custodians' and bus drivers' work more hectic than usual. The cleaned paths and safe rides were appreciated.

BE- WILD - ERING

"Wild" was the word to describe the crowd swarming down the halls and through the lunch lines. Although some opted to eat uptown, the $1 lunch ticket remained the best buy for students.

One of the duties is overseeing the junior's fund-raising project, magazine sales, from which they must earn at least $2400 for the prom. The most enjoyable part of being advisor is watching the juniors put up prom decorations and seeing their pride in the completed project. The worst part is chaperoning the dances with their loud music and making sure no fights break out. Mr. Niekamp says he enjoys the job of advisor. He just likes being around the kids.

Besides working weekends at the American Legion, Neal Mescher collects baseball cards in his spare time. Although it's only been his hobby for three years, his oldest card is a 1955 Bowman of Wally Post. Academics Brian Albers finds the early morning PSAT test mentally stimulating.

Student scholastic bowl team, Ralph Ewry, Greg Eyink, Rex Kremer and Fred Sower show superiority at a match with the faculty team.

PSAT

On a brisk Saturday morning in October some juniors awoke early and reported to the library at CHS. They weren't there to serve detention. They had come for the PSAT, or Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. This test was given as a warm-up for the ACT, or American College Test, given in the spring. Colleges use these test scores to select students for admission and to award scholarships.

CHOSEN

CHS students had several opportunities to participate in special programs this year. One such program was Junior Scholars. The six juniors and seniors with the highest grade point average attended four seminars this year. Those students were: Rex Kremer, Jack Knapke, Amy Sudhoff, Dale Broering, Fred Sowa, Glen Steinbrunner, Julie Broering, Brian May, Ken Meyer, Ann Post, Linda Thompson and Mark Vagedes.

NHS

On May 15, 1988, National Honor Society members and their parents attended a dinner and installation ceremony at CHS. Members recited the pledge and participated in a candle lighting ceremony. Every member received a National Honor Society pin presented by the Coldwater Academic Promoters (CAP), a newly formed academic support organization.

Officers Julie Miller, Alicia Bruns, Fred Sowar and Glen Steinbrunner light the candles which symbolize Education, Scholarship, Character, Service and Leadership.

The Tenth Annual Kiwanis Achievement Banquet was held in May at West Elementary School. Students who were nominated by their teachers or principal for their achievements were presented with marble awards inlaid with the Kiwanis emblem. The banquet was attended by the honored students and their parents, CHS staff and Kiwanis members.

AWARDS ASSEMBLY

The last week of school the student body and faculty gathered in the gym for a morning of awards — for academics, for effort and for fun. There were numerous other awards given besides the ones mentioned here.

Mr. Cully recognized Mark Vagedes, his most improved chemistry student. Mrs. Ewry gave Steve Wolters a four year Spanish award. Mr. Rutter presented Kelly Muhlenkamp the National School Choral Award, and Mrs. Good thanked Shane McKibben and Jeff Heiby for their work as trainers for the special olympics. Mr. Weber presented his calculus students with survival awards, and Mr. Wright honored his science students who achieved academically and "who don't tax me too much."

The "split personality" award was presented to Lisa Deitsch by Miss Finke, the "part-time student" award given to Mike Hildebrandt by Mr. Schwieterman and the "dipstick" award reluctantly accepted by Mike Billerman from Mr. Stose.

Mrs. Cox also presented the rubber chicken award to the faculty team of Wright, Parker, Swartzel and Billerman for their red and green pancakes at the December staff breakfast.

Doug Timmerman accepts an award for general math from Mr. Bruns.

Mrs. Cox presents senior, Deb Pease, with an award for advanced foods class.

Craig Schmidt and Scott Bergman are co-winners of the chef's hat and Mrs. Cox's culinary arts award.

Mr. LoBianco awards his outstanding health students with "an apple a day."

Mr. Hoyng congratulates senior, Jan Sudhoff, for earning an "A" every quarter in general business.

Assisting Mr. Niekamp, Mr. Bruns presents perfect attendance certificates to Jeff Stachler and others.

Mr. Weber steals the show in a Swing Choir dance number during a break in the awards program.

May students of the month are freshman Pete Wenning, junior Todd Rauh, and senior Shelly Post. Sophomore Eric VanDenBosch was absent.

Nikki Kettler and Matt Muhlenkamp are recipients of the German I award presented by Mr. Homan.

STUDENTS OF THE MONTH

Each month students were nominated by their teachers for service and contributions to their school. Then one student was selected from each grade six through twelve. Those who were selected as students of the month were then treated to a free lunch courtesy of Bettie's Restaurant.

There's no credit toward graduation. No pay. No glory like in an athletic victory.

There are demands — hard work and long hours after school, evenings and summer days. There are endless doubts and frustrations.

Digging for a story, interviewing, collecting data, photographing school events, designing layouts, writing stories and captions, typing, proofreading — if a commitment is made, the challenge is there.

There is excitement, creativity, anticipation, imagination, organization, cooperation and camaraderie, and when your "baby" is beheld in the Fall, there's pride, satisfaction, and memories of all that went into its production. It looks easy, but you know.

O.E.A.

The Office Education Association has helped its members learn many business concepts and to make many new friends.

The members of the club smashed aluminum cans all year long to make money for their club along with their yearly fundraiser of selling gift wrap and gift items. Some of the money went towards the field trips the members took to OEA meetings at Columbus, Wright State, and different schools around the area.

Throughout the year, various guest speakers came in to speak to the OEA members about what its like in the real business world.

In the middle of the year, ten of the OEA members went to contest. It is needless to say that they did an excellent job. Each one came back with an award or awards. Michelle Gross placed first in Financial Assistant I which enabled her to go on to the State level to compete.

The torch awards are the awards the members could earn. They consisted of Executive, Diplomat, Stateswoman, and Ambassador awards. Everyone received their Executive while others received their Diplomat and Stateswoman. Three of the members, Angie Rogers, Christa Forsthoefel, and Linda Penno received the Ambassador award which is difficult for Juniors to accomplish.

To end their year as Junior OEA members, the club held a Spring Awards Banquet for their parents and special guests. This banquet gave the members recognition for their outstanding performances and accomplishments they had done throughout the year.

Stepping Out

Stepping out with style, the 1987 Cavalier Marching Band displayed its "snazzy" new uniforms at the first home football game with Celina. The recently purchased uniforms were made possible through various fund raisers and generous donations by both individuals and businesses.

Under the leadership of first year director Donald Stewart and his assistant Melinda Smith, the Band opened its marching season with St. Henry's Sesquicentennial parade. The Band also participated in other local parades and the Mercer County Fair Band Festival. During the football season the Band entertained the fans with songs that included Jan and Dean's "Surf City", the jazzy beat of "Birdland", and the ever popular "Hang on Sloopy" and "Barbara Ann." The season drew to a close with the annual performance of the Midwest Ohio Band Contest at Marion Local.

FORE!

Seasonal records can be quite deceiving sometimes. Although the varsity team's record might not have shown it, they tried; furthermore, they did better than the year before. The junior varsity team received more recognition for their efforts when they took second place in the Mercer County Tournament.

Bruce Turner was the only senior golfing this past year. The team golfed at the Elks Lodge. Most of the matches were played on beautiful fall days that were filled with sunshine. The golf team always has five varsity players but Mike Kaiser, Matt Muhlenkamp, and Bruce Turner were the only golfers that stayed on varsity all season long. The other two varsity positions were rotated among the other golf team members. The golf team had a lot of fun last year. Coach Maier not only taught the team to play golf but also to appreciate the challenge.

RACING

WITH THE WIND

Overcoming too few students participating and the usual number of injuries, the 1987 cross country team experienced some success with seven of fourteen wins, a fourth place in the M.A.C. and a seventh place at districts. Coldwater's first cross country coach, Mr. Gene Weber, assumed that role once again.

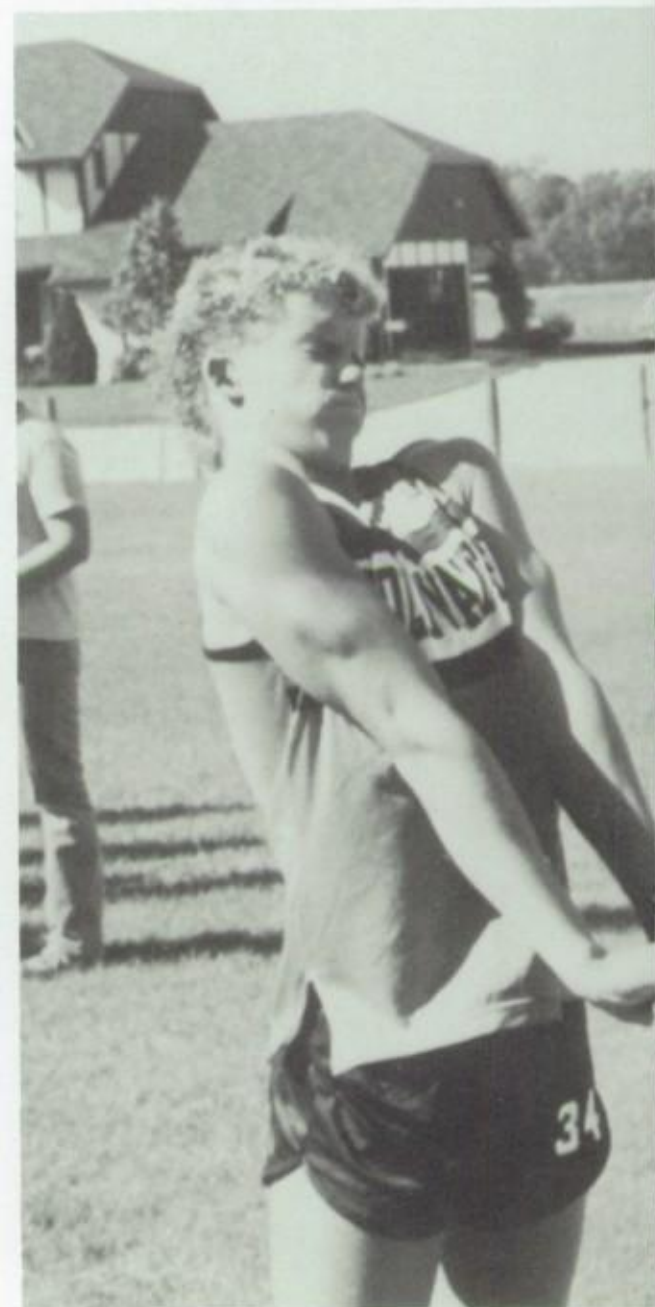

Juniors Carmen Bruns and Lisa Deitsch had good seasons, placing often but acquiring no team points because of Coldwater's failure to meet the minimum number of female participants. Bruns finished sixth in the M.A.C., qualified for regionals and was chosen Coldwater's most valuable runner.

Two more juniors were outstanding Cav runners. With an eighth place win Ontrop earned his third M.A.C. plaque, and John Parsons became a regional qualifier. Selected for the all-league team were Ontrop and teammate Carmen Bruns.

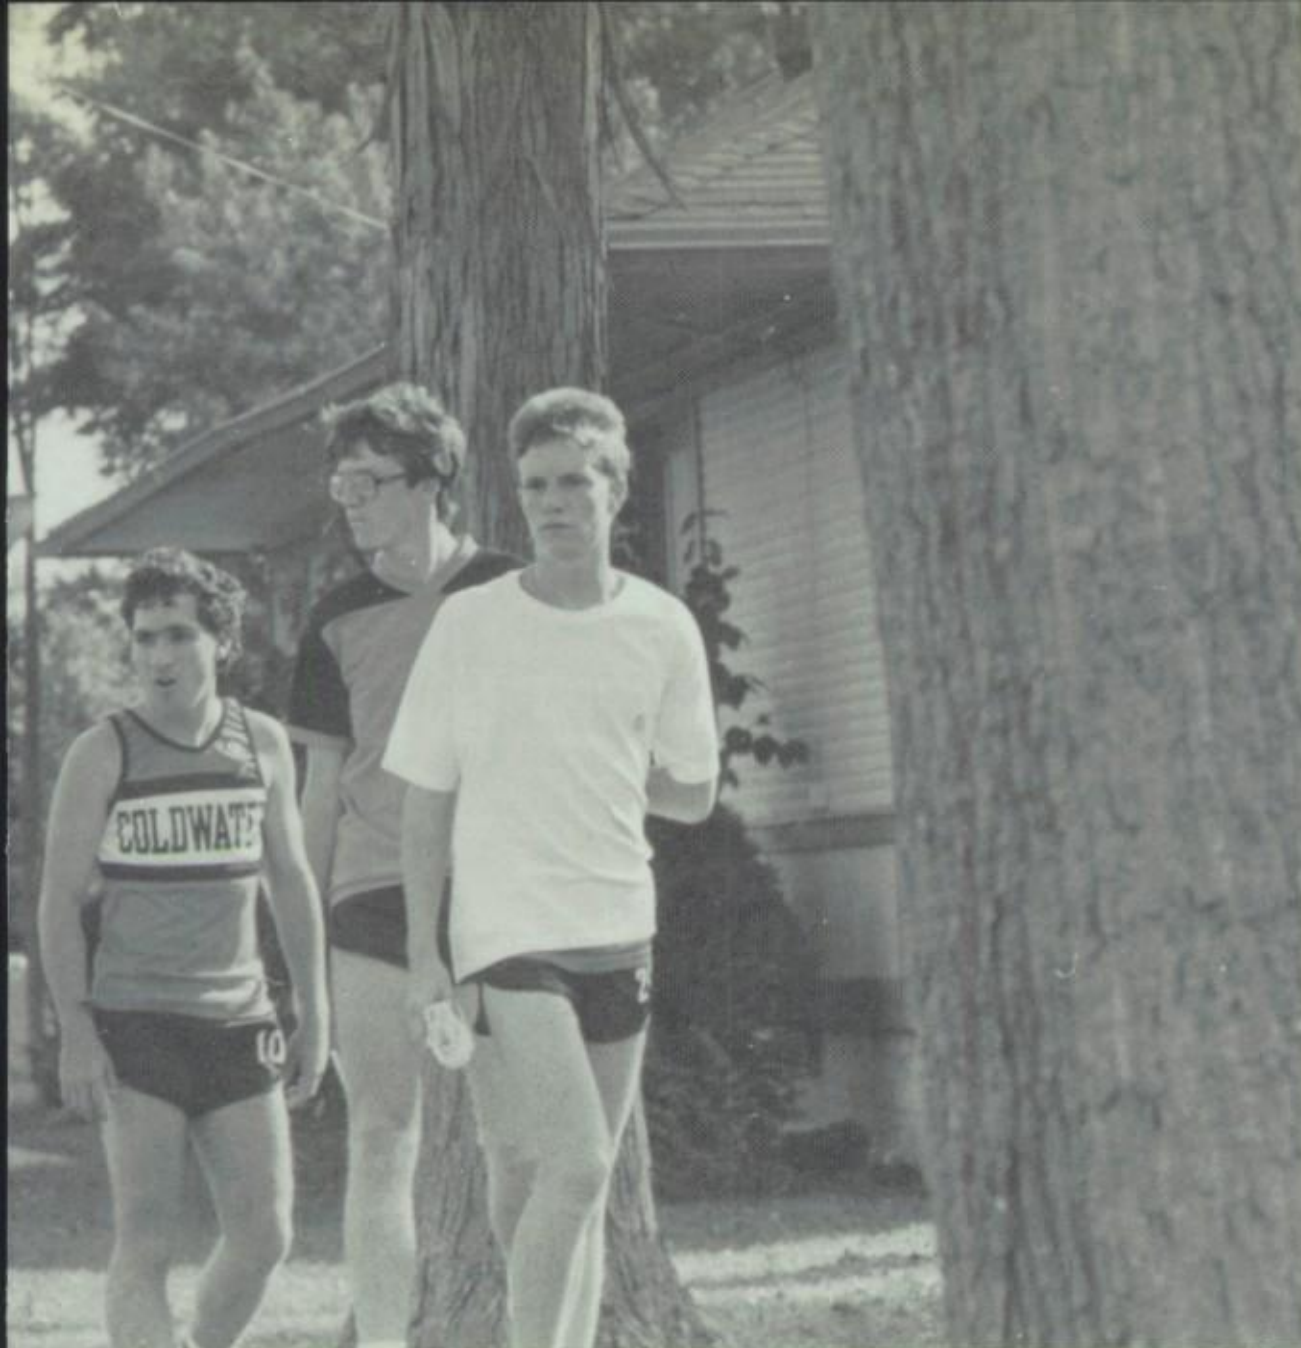

While the juniors contributed most to the scoring, it was the seniors who added the spirit. Greg Eyink and Swedish exchange student Richard Bjornberg supported their comrades and contributed to the overall success.

Serving Up Those

INSTINCTS

ANIMAL

Kim Bettinger "digs" volleyball.

Starting off with a bang, the Cavalier Lady Spikers were "set" for the season. Proof of this was Deb McKinzie receiving an M.A.C. honorable mention and Kim Bettinger being named to the M.A.C. team.

Mentally prepared and suited up in new uniforms, the Lady Cavs took the floor with an air of total domination. The girls' 10-11 record doesn't show the determination or the 110% effort they put forth all season. They fought many a close "battle" and showed us what they were made of every time they served up those animal instincts!

The Reserve's 4-10 record might lead one to believe that the Lady Cavs didn't put forth their best effort but records can be deceiving. The girls practiced hard and went into all of their games with a positive attitude. Determined to beat their opponents, the girls lost many of their matches in three close games.

Playing this year, attending open gyms, and going to volleyball camp in the summer will give next year's team the experience and skill it needs to have a good season.

FRESHMAN VOLLEYBALL

This was the first year for a freshman volleyball team. The ten Lady Cavs that made up the team began training in August without any idea that they'd make "high school history" by being the first freshman volleyball team from Coldwater; unfortunately, they didn't get to play many other teams. They did, however, enjoy the games and scrimmages they did play.

SPLIT SEASONS

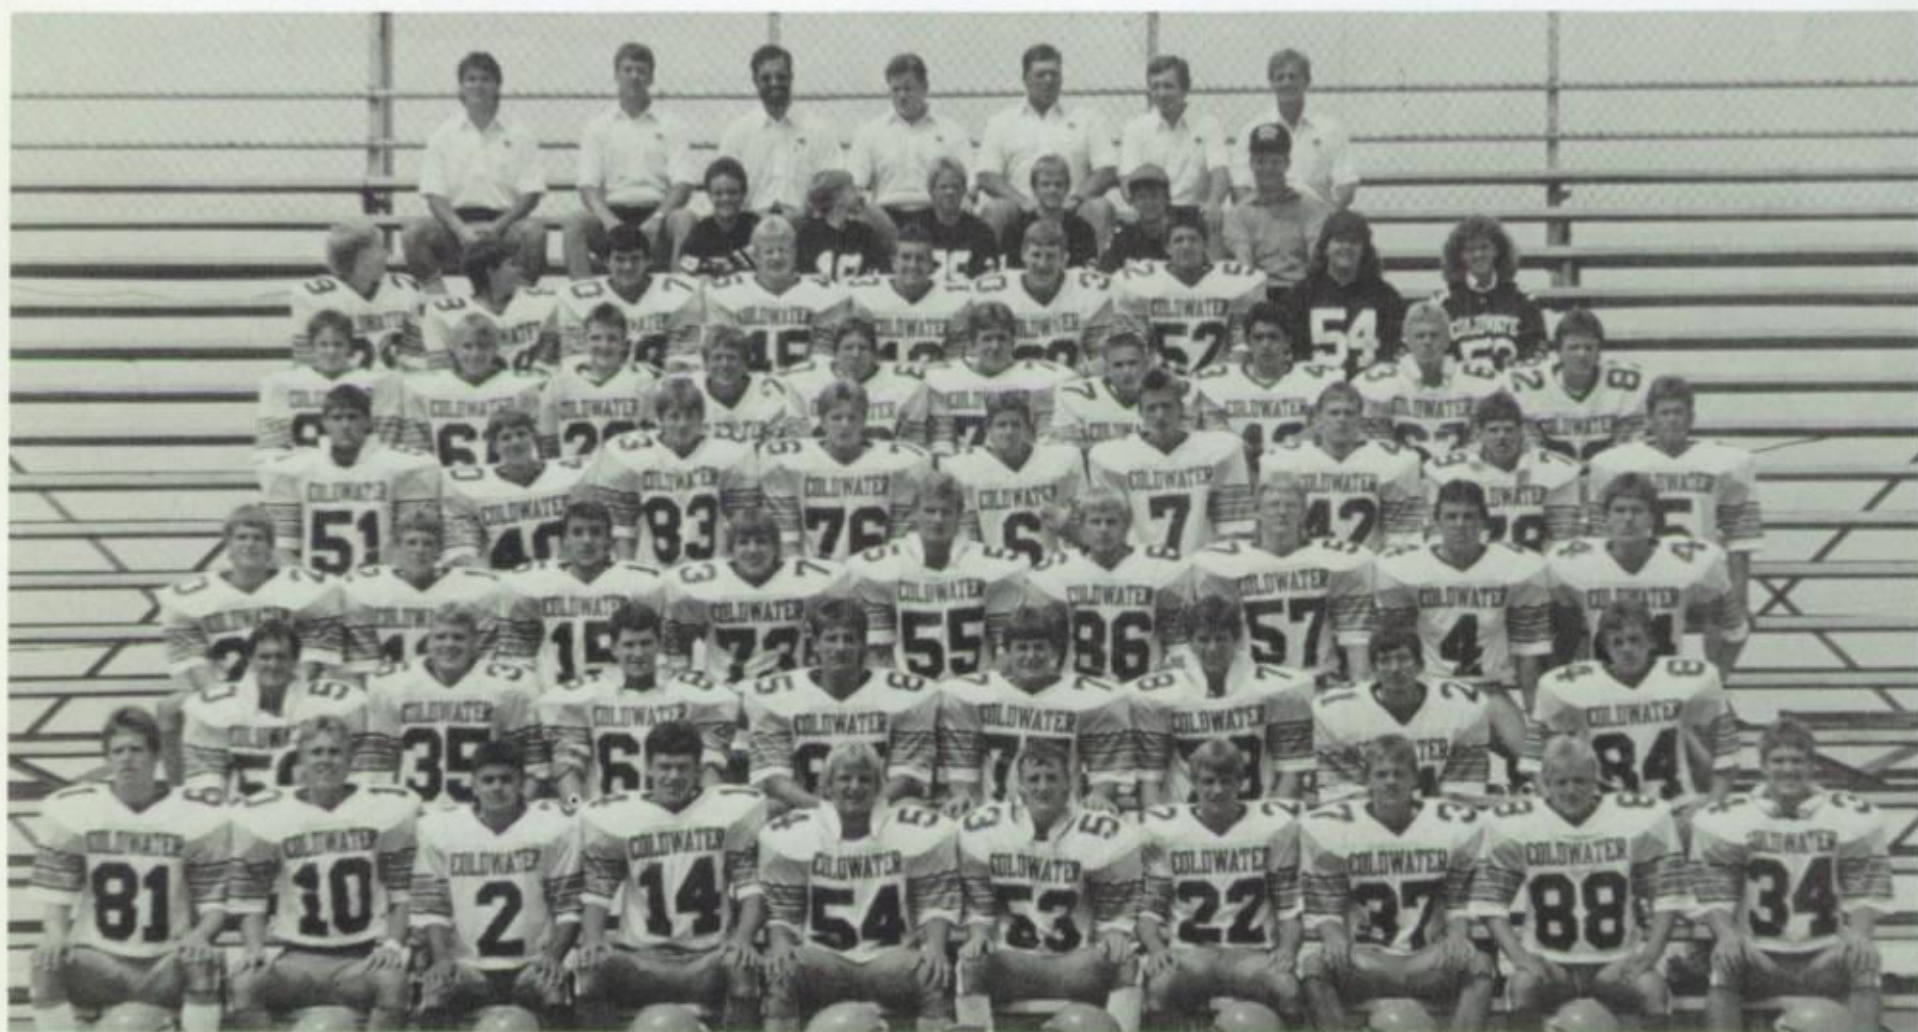

The Cavalier reserves experienced quite a bit of inconsistency during the 1987 season. They scored 20 points the first game, but it took the Cav offense 5 more games to score a total of 20 points.

A 20-0 shutout over the Delphos Blue Jays was followed by losses to Miamisburg, Versailles, Marion, and Minster to put the Cavs record at an ugly 1-4. Then like their varsity counterparts, the reserves turned the tide and finished the year with three straight wins over Parkway, Celina and St. Henry, making the reserve record 4-4.

The ninth graders also experienced a split season winning over Parkway and Marion (14-0 and 14-8, respectively) and losing to Delphos Jefferson (6-18) and Celina (0-8).

CRAVING CONTINUES

If Charles Dickens were alive today he would have the perfect title for the Cavaliers' 1987 season — "A Tale of Two Teams." The worst of times came during the first half of the season, when the Cavs were 2-3. The second half of the season was the best of times which found the Cavs going 5-0.

The Cavs began the season in impressive fashion with a 28-6 victory over arch-rival Celina. All cylinders seemed to be clicking as Coldwater rolled to its second consecutive win over the Bulldogs. The ensuing four weeks was another story as the Cavs managed a victory over a weak Lima Central Catholic team followed by three losses, the last of which to Marion Local proved to be the final time an opponent would put points on the board in 1987.

One word described the Cavalier defense during the second half of the season — AWE-SOME. Included among the shutouts were two play-off teams, Minster and St. Henry. New Bremen and Minster were both undefeated at the time they ran into the Cavalier "wall." Once again Coldwater had grabbed a share of the MAC.

Respected for his quick and aggressive running style, senior tailback Fred Sowar twists and turns for extra yardage versus Parkway.

The Cavalier "wall" states its case against Versailles.

While he concentrates on the action on the field, junior inside linebacker Cory Obringer mentally prepares himself for the defense's next series of downs.

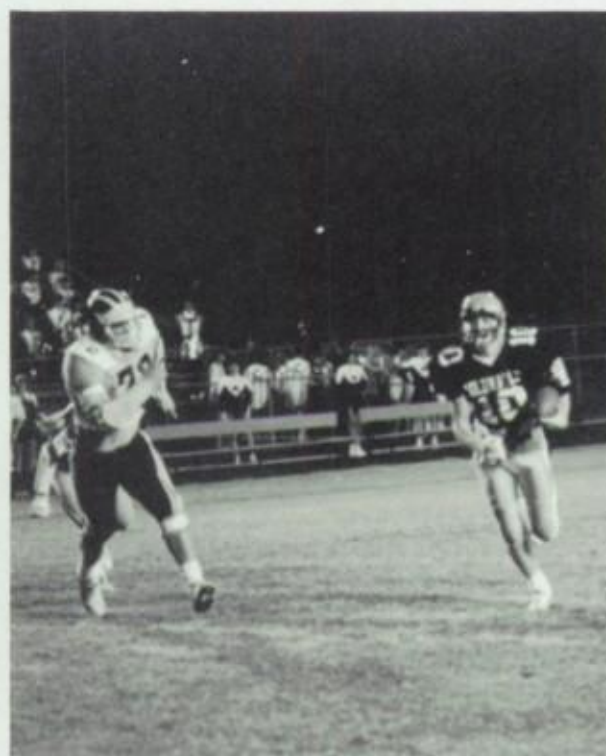

Head coach Tim Hoyng studies the present situation as he contemplates the next play. Hoyng, who bows out this year, led the Cavs to their first ever playoff appearance (1986) and two MAC championships in as many years.

GO-GETTERS

Did you know our cheerleaders do more than just yell their lungs out? Early in the summer the CHS cheerleaders attended the Camp America at Houston Woods. The camp proved to be very beneficial throughout this crazy year.

Camp America lasted four days during the month of July. The cheerleaders learned new chants, floor cheers and many different kinds of jumps and stunts. At the camp, Coldwater received all superior ribbons, which is the best a squad could obtain.

There was an NCA cheerleading camp (National Cheerleading Association) in which three CHS cheerleaders instructed. Coldwater has attended this camp for the last three years. Senior squad member, Amy Brunswick commented, "Overall, the camp allowed the Coldwater cheerleaders to work together and to get to know each other better."

THE LIMBER

Through hard work and dedication, the 1987-88 Coldwater Gymnastics Team finished the season with a 7-4 record. The team took third place at the Cavalier Invitational at the Celina Gymnastics Center out of a total of 10 teams. Other special recognitions that the team took include placing seventh in a field of twenty-two teams at the Northwest District Class III meet.

Several individuals received special awards this season. Karen Findley received the "Senior Award" for 1987-88. Janel Kremer was presented with the "Coach's Award" and the award for "Most Total Team Points." Carmen Bruns, a junior, was runner-up for the "Most Total Team Points Award."

The "Most Outstanding Gymnast Award" this season was won by Amy Brunswick. Amy placed first on the floor exercise, balance beam, and uneven parallel bars and third on the vault at the Cavalier Invitational. This contributed to her being chosen for the first team of the Northwest District. Once more Amy qualified for the State High School meet, but was unable to compete this year due to injuries.

ON THEIR WAY . . .

The year looked promising as the girls' varsity basketball team returned with four veteran seniors and a bonus, Renee Muhlenkamp, who had not played since her freshman year.

With hard practice and great determination the Lady Cavs found themselves at the State finals in March. This was the second time in the history of the girls' basketball program that this had happened.

Although they went up against some BIG girls from Vienna Mathews, the Lady Cavs held their own. The varsity girls' team ended its season with a 6-3 league record and an overall record of 22-4.

What does a cheerleader do? A lot more work goes into being a CHS cheerleader besides cheering at basketball games. The girls take time out of their busy schedules and stay after school to work on projects. This was something they seemed to do every Monday.

A variety of activities took place in an effort to promote school spirit. They spent their time making signs to hang up in the hallways, making locker signs and painting the school windows and the merchants' windows uptown in order to get the athletes psyched for that night's game. They also organized Spirit Angels, seniors who did special things anonymously for senior athletes the day of the game.

Once again Coldwater sent representation all the way to state. Lisa Deitsch qualified in the 100 m and 300 m hurdles, as did the girls' 800 and 1600 m relay team of Alicia Bruns, Carmen Bruns, Teresa Moeller and Lisa Deitsch.

Boys' Track Team: (sitting) J. Geier, F. Sowar, A. Olsen, R. Wagner, C. Ontrop, C. Obringer, B. Gruss; (kneeling) M. Wolf, G. Eyink, G. Buffenbarger, B. Powell, M. Muhlenkamp, J. Howe, J. Pabst; (standing) Coach Hoyng, G. Miller, R. Bjornberg, K. Meyer, D. Brunswick, S. Gels, T. Franzer, R. Umstead, Coach Cully

CAVS TAME MAC

Rex Kremer sets himself for the pitch. Kremer received honorable mention to the MAC team as did teammates, Tony Dues, Steve Howell and Jack Knapke.

Coach Brunswick and his team watch as they romp over their opponent.

Following through, Scott Eyink fires the ball at home plate.

Relief pitcher, Jason Hemmelgarn, throws a few warm-ups while teammates look on.

This year's senior varsity players include: B. Muhlenkamp, C. McKibben, S. Eyink, J. Hemmelgarn, R. Kremer, J. Knapke and M. Klosterman

The Cavaliers finished the season with a boastful 31-1 record. Their only loss was the semi-final game at regionals against Ottawa Hills Green Bears. Coldwater defeated New Bremen, Parkway (last year's Class A champs), and Minster to earn their sixth straight regional trip but only their first in Class A.

Nominated to the all MAC team were Scott Eyink, Brian Harlemert, Jason Hemmelgarn, Mike Klosterman, Cory McKibben and Brad Muhlenkamp. The six played for Team One in the All-Star Game at Memorial Park and shared in the win over Team Two, 19-4.

The Cavs go wild when Mike Klosterman's single delivers the winning run in the District title match.

The Cavs demonstrate good sportsmanship toward their opponents, the Minster Wildcats.

Athletic Director, Mr. Nick LoBianco, presents a plaque to Jason Hemmelgarn.

Varsity Baseball Team: (kneeling) M. Klosterman, C. McKibben, J. Hemmelgarn, J. Knapke, T. Dues; (standing) Coach Brunswick, S. Howell, B. Harlamert, B. Muhlenkamp, S. Eyink, M. Kaiser, E. Winner, R. Kremer, T. Post, D. Rose, J. Crider, S. Brandon, C. French, manager

Coach Lou Brunswick was voted Coach of the Year for the third year in a row, a feat not accomplished by any other baseball coach. The award was voted on by all the coaches in the state of Ohio. Brunswick, who's been coaching for twenty-nine years, was awarded a plaque.

Coach Brunswick's overall win record hit the 600 mark during the season with three state titles, which ranks sixth in the nation among high school baseball coaches. Pictured with Brunswick is assistant coach Tom James.

J.V.

The junior varsity Cavs finished their season with 16 wins and 8 losses. Coldwater won the championship game of the county junior varsity baseball tournament, rolling over Parkway, 19-4.

Coach Wilker goes over the signs with his player.

With nobody on base, Brian Harlamert concentrates on his release to the plate.

Brian Schwartz eyes the pitch.

Todd Steinbrunner is in the process of throwing his fastball.

Playing conservatively, Coach Miller holds the runner up at third.

Umpire Jeff Parker watches as Bruce Buschur carefully steps on home plate.

Eric Stachler prepares to throw his warm-ups as Coach Miller watches.

Scott Post gets set for the pitch.

Freshman Baseball Team: (kneeling) M. Klosterman, M. Voskuhl, A. Billger, D. Timmerman, D. Knapke, D. Duerr; (standing) K. Weitzel, D. Sudhoff, S. Post, B. Buschur, D. Honigford, B. Balster, E. Stachler, Coach Miller

During a pep session the marching band supports the football team and the cheerleaders with the school fight song.

In honor of the 200th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution decorated cakes are made by Mrs. Paula Cox and home ec. students. Present for the cake-cutting ceremony are Scott Gels, Mandy Cully, Mr. Floyd Winner, Darla Droesch, Mrs. Cox, Mr. John Leugers, and Mr. Wayne Miller. The entire staff and student body enjoyed the afternoon refreshments and a brief radio address by President Reagan.

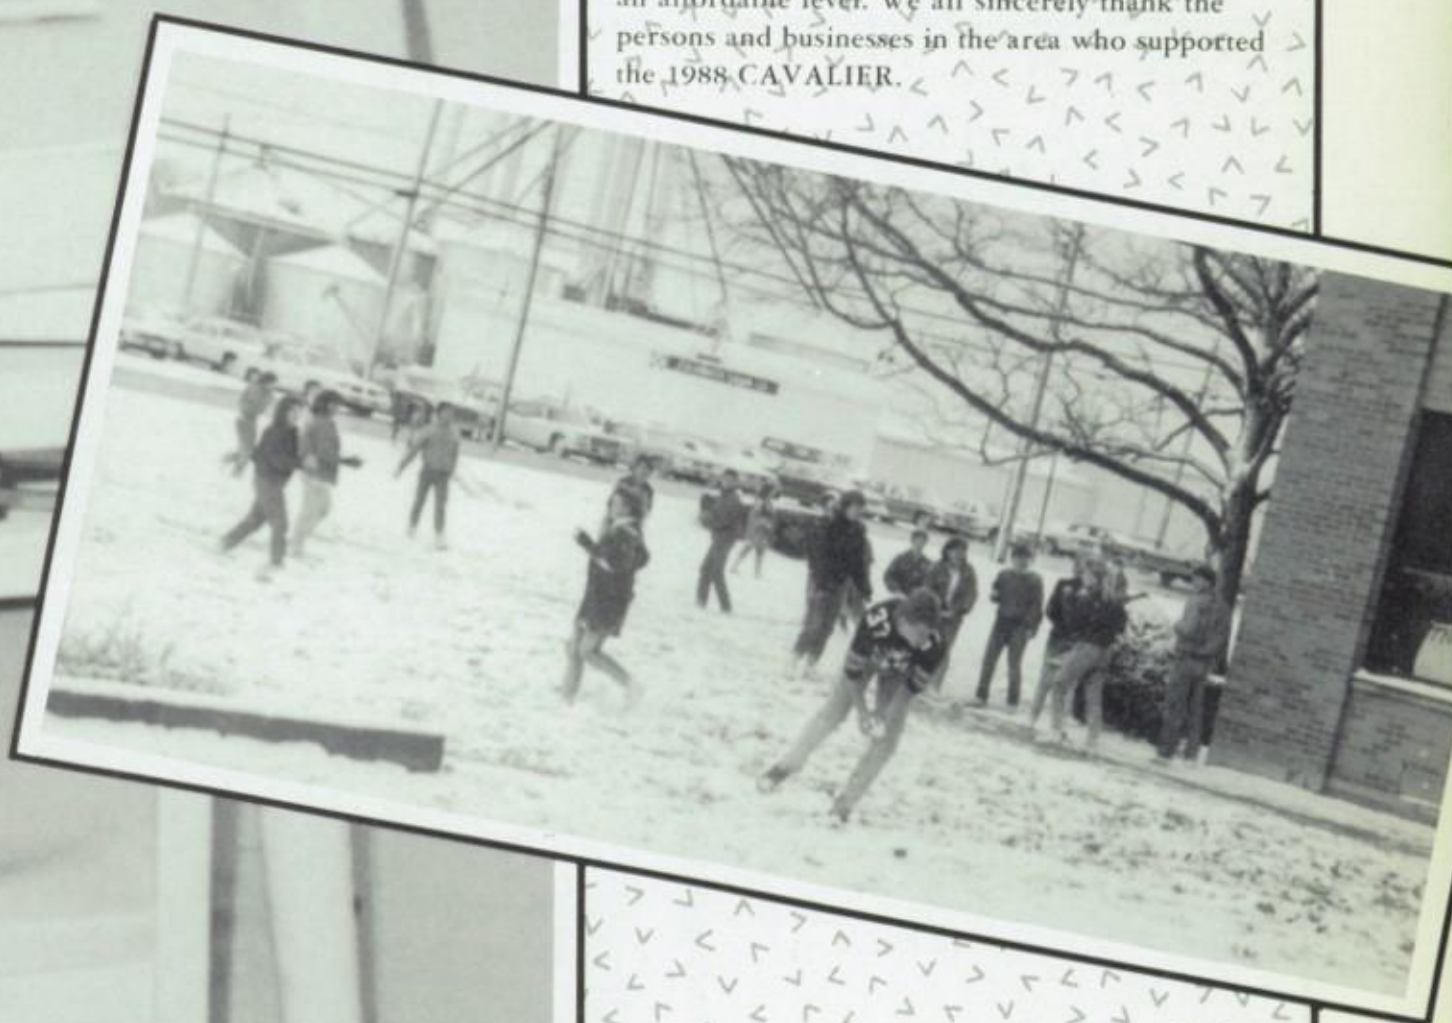

Whether it's in the stadium or the "Pit," Cavs make the news.

Ads

Bill Gruss spends his study hall in the library catching up on the news and reading the ads, of course. Bill knows that only through advertising can the student's cost of the yearbook be kept at an affordable level. We all sincerely thank the persons and businesses in the area who supported the 1988 CAVALIER.

Students predictably go "wild" with the first snowfall.

All library materials are packed away in boxes.

FINALLY...

A week before school was dismissed for summer vacation the building which once housed the central administration offices was burned down to make way for new construction. Thanks to the 90's Committee led by Stan Lefeld and Everett Hall and the voters of the school district, Coldwater will soon have a new gym and more classroom space.

The asbestos removal project caused many employees to move materials and equipment into storage where there was no asbestos. Students picked up their report cards from a temporary office in Tri-Star.

As the yearbook is being completed the Coldwater Acme Baseball team's record has reached 13-1, Mercer County and other parts of Ohio and the U.S. have experienced drought conditions (some say the worst in 50 years) and Coldwater has become engrossed in plans for the sesquicentennial (150 years) celebration this summer. Schedules of the week's events for July 30 through August 7 have been posted, a community band and choir have formed and practiced, and an assortment of concerts, dances, style shows and historical displays have been announced.

Not only has the 1988 yearbook theme seemed to fit the end of the school year, but it looks as though we're in for a summer which is...

BORN TO BE WILD!!!

Community band members practice hard for the upcoming sesquicentennial celebration.

Signs thanking the community for voting "yes" for the bond levy are posted in the school windows.

Billie Jo,

Thanks for always being there for me. I'm glad we became good friends. Remember all the good times we had & our "Happy Humpty days"! Never forget the Celina motel (HA HA) Hope there's many more good times to come. Keep partying & never change.

Luv Ya, Christie

Billie Jo,

I really don't have alot to say, but that I have seen you in color & heard and I have seen your progress greatly. Keep trying and stay the way you are.

Billie Jo,
Hey chic! Good luck through these next few torturing years of high school, because if you're like me, you'll need it. You're a wild n' crazy chic and I'm lookin' forward to partying with ya.
